Johnson Departs On Visit To Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson departed on a momentous, 25,000-mile mission to the Far East today with a vow to "do my best to advance the cause of peace and of human progress."

Johnson tempered this pledge with word that "I know that I can wave no wand" or offer any promises to work magic on his aerial expedition to at least six Asian and Pacific nations.

Yet he said, he was undertaking a "hopeful mission."

It was 9:26 a.m. EDT when Johnson's big Air Force jet lifted off the runway at Dulles International Airport, 25 miles northwest of Washington. It swung westward toward the first stop at Honolulu 4,500 miles and ten and a half hours away.

Beyond, lay state visits to

New Zealand, Australia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand and the Manila conference of nations combatting Communist aggression in South Viet Nam.

In a short departure speech at a ceremonial send off at the airport, Johnson said he was inspired by the presence of leaders of Congress and members of his Cabinet and the "unity of the American people."

It was a cool, crisp, sunny morning with the temperature up from near-freezing to around 50 degrees when the President and Mrs. Johnson stepped out of a helicopter that had brought them from the White House on to the concrete ramp of the airport for a spectacular farewell of the type usually used in reverse to welcome chiefs of states from other lands on their arrival.

'For Peace And Human Progress'

There was the stirring music of trumpeters and bandmen, the crashing roar of a 21 gun salute, the multi-hued flags of all the states whipping in the breeze, a review of an honor guard of crack ceremonial units of all the armed services. And there was the actual red carpet, carefully swept and manicured, for the walk to the ramp of the plane, with handshakes and brief words for the upper echelons of Washington officialdom and members of the diplomatic corps along the way. A wife or two got a presidential kiss on the cheek.

The top layer of Washington officialdom gathered under the flags of the 50 states in front of the airport's futuristic terminal building to say their farewells to the President and Mrs. Johnson.

The President, who will visit at least six countries in the next 17 days, said he wants to learn of their progress and problems, their hopes and their concerns.

A seventh country not listed on Johnson's itinerary — South Viet Nam — stands as the focal point of his arduous travels, however. Viet Nam claimed greatest attention in his departure statement.

Referring to the seven-nation Manila conference set for Oct. 24-25, Johnson said:

"A small Asian nation is under attack and defending itself with extraordinary courage and endurance. I go to confer with its leaders and with the leaders of those other nations that have committed their young men to defeat aggression."

"We shall review the state of military operations; but we shall mainly devote our attention to the civil, constructive side of the problem of Viet Nam."

"We shall together seek ways of bringing about an honorable peace at the earliest possible moment."

Johnson, though obviously in a buoyant mood for the past week, sounded a note of caution Sunday. Appearing at the dedication of a Roman Catholic shrine at Doylestown, Pa., he said "we cannot wave any wand and we do not expect to achieve any miracles" — at home or abroad.

The carefully staged airport ceremony was attended by a broadly representative official farewell committee.

Turning out were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, American chief executive member of the Cabinet and to set foot, while in office, in diplomatic corps, Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress, trumpeters, bandmen, troops of all the services and experts at firing 21-gun salutes.

The Johnsons were bound nonstop for Honolulu and an overnight stay before flying Tuesday to New Zealand via American Samoa and its exotic South Seas town of Pago Pago.

Johnson scheduled two speeches in Honolulu — one at the airport and a more extensive address at the East-West Center there. Mrs. Johnson who will pursue her interest in beautification throughout the trip, was to plant a frangipani tree at the center and accept an award as a patron of beauty — "a language of all mankind."

The President will be the first American chief executive ever to set foot, while in office, in Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Malaysia and American Samoa.

He also will visit the Philippines, South Korea and — on the return journey early next month — Alaska.

Although South Viet Nam is not on Johnson's itinerary, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu will invite the President to visit the war-torn country after the Manila conference.

There has been speculation that Johnson might stop briefly in Viet Nam. The date most often mentioned is Oct. 27.

The trip is built around a seven-nation Manila conference of leaders of countries contributing to the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam. These

Shapp Blasts Opposition In Midland Talk

Claims Shafer Now Favors Everything He Once Protested

"Raymond Shafer is now for everything he voted against as a state senator," Milton Shapp, Democratic nominee for Pennsylvania governor, told some 300 steel union representatives at a dinner Sunday night in Midland.

Shapp, speaking at the event held by the legislative committee of District 20's United Steelworkers of America at the CIO hall, cited the record of Shafer, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

He said Shafer "had voted against highways, housing, clean streams, slum clearance," and yes, even against a public library bill."

"Have you been had enough?" he asked those at the dinner, representing some 30,000 district steel employees.

He said Gov. William Scranton had been one of the luckiest governors in the state's history, because he was in office during a time the nation was under a Democrat administration at Washington and the country was in prosperity.

"The Scranton-Shafer administration has not had one single idea," he declared.

Shapp also said Pennsylvania has not kept up with the rest of the nation.

He cited figures which were announced Sunday showing Pennsylvania's population in the 25-45 age category was down 90,000 and said "this heart of the labor market is going elsewhere to better opportunities."

Kay Kluz, District 20 director, was master of ceremonies. Special tribute was paid to the area's legislators, both state and federal.

Boycott Pressed

Lower Food Prices Sought

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Housewives in the Denver metropolitan area today are ready to boycott five major grocery chains in an effort to get lower food prices.

The boycott has become a Colorado political issue. It appears to have caused one chain to reduce prices, and it may mean a visit to Denver by a presidential aide.

Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President on consumer affairs, wants to attend a meeting of the Better Business Bureau, food chain representatives, and the leaders of an organization called Housewives for Lower Food Prices, Rep. Roy H. McVicker, D-Colo., said Sunday. The meeting, requested by the chains, is tentatively scheduled for Thursday.

The housewives are shopping at independent grocers and boycotting Miller's, Furr's, King Soopers, Red Owl and Safeway chains.

Mrs. Paul West, leader of the housewives group, is gathering signatures on a petition calling for federal and state investigation into the cost of food. She said Sunday night more than 25,000 signatures have been received.

The petition will be sent to President Johnson, Gov. John A. Love, and the state congressional delegation.

Democratic congressional candidates have thrown their support to Mrs. West's group, although one Republican candidate claimed to be first. Mrs. West decries the political support and said, "It's our horse, and we want to ride it." She said she didn't want the issue to become a political football.

Reaction to the boycott by supermarket officials has been varied. McLeod Hittson, division manager of Miller's Super Markets, said Sunday that all 43 stores in Colorado would be closed today "and our people will work the entire day at reducing prices." Hittson said there would be other cutbacks. Promotions will be halted, a controlled policy of check-cashing will go into effect, grocery carryout service will be eliminated, and store hours will be shortened, he said.

Officials at King Soopers and Safeway called for an immediate federal investigation of the increased cost of food.

Red Owl President James A. Watson said the housewives' complaints are not justified. "Prices are already as low as they can be," he said. He said that he doesn't plan to do anything from his main offices in Minneapolis, and he won't come to Denver.

Stuebenville Man, 25, Dies In Auto Collision

Three persons remain hospitalized today as an aftermath of a head-on auto collision early Sunday on Route 151 near Mingo Junction that claimed the life of Harry Howard Hoover, 25, of Steubenville R. D. 3.

Hoover's passenger, Wayne N. Stindler, 20, also of Steubenville R. D. 3, was in "fair" condition today at Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville. Chris Robert Layman, 16, of Mingo Junction, the other driver, and Paul Huggins, 17, a passenger in his car, were reported in "fair" condition at the same hospital.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol post said Layman's car went off the left side of the highway, struck Hoover's car and then returned to the roadway. The investigation is continuing, the patrol said.

Johnson OK's $500,000 To Launch Canal

Planning Fund Set In Public Works Act Signed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill appropriating $500,000 for planning of a canal to link Lake Erie and the Ohio River.

Proponents of the canal say it would cost $1 billion. The price tag is estimated at double that amount by opponents of the project.

The planning money was included in a $4.1 billion public works appropriation bill which the White House announced Sunday the President had signed.

Congress in 1935 authorized building of the canal but has never appropriated any money to pay for its construction. Long before that, in 1825, Army engineers first recommended construction of the canal. They renewed their recommendation in 1934.

In urging the House to approve the planning money, Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio said the canal would link up with the Tennessee and Tombigbee rivers and complete a 1,745-mile waterway from Cleveland to Mobile.

Railroads and others have fought the canal project. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., has called it a "billion dollar ditch designed to bury 20,000 Pennsylvania jobs."

The canal, he said, would make it cheaper to manufacture steel in Ohio than in Pennsylvania because the taxpayer would pay transportation costs of coal and other materials.

Scott told the Senate the canal planning money was in President Johnson's budget because a powerful member of the House "wants to build a memorial to himself."

Red Flotilla Battered In Delta Attack

121 Sampans Sunk, 147 Cong Killed In Two-Pronged Blow

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese militiamen, U.S. gunship helicopters and river patrol boats swept down on a flotilla of 150 Viet Cong sampans in the Mekong Delta Sunday, sank 121 of the enemy boats and killed 147 Viet Cong soldiers, South Vietnamese military headquarters reported today.

The American helicopters accounted for 51 of the enemy dead, while the Vietnamese force also took 17 prisoners in the search and destroy operation in Kien Tuong Province.

Viet Cong terror returned today to the streets of Saigon. A claymore mine explosion near a U.S. military billet took a toll of 11 killed or wounded.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government also was rocked by new dissension within the Cabinet which endangered the facade of unity Ky had patched together for the Manila summit conference.

Ky, on a trip to the central highlands, said he would invite President Johnson to visit South Viet Nam after the Manila conference next week. There has been speculation that the President would make a one-day stop in South Viet Nam Oct. 27.

Except for the sampan battle, scattered ground fighting continued on a small scale. Another force of militiamen reported 21 enemy killed and nine captured in an engagement in Kien Phong Province southwest of Saigon on the Cambodian border.

The U.S. air offensive against North Viet Nam was severely hampered for the second straight day by rainstorms and generally bad weather. American pilots flew only 97 bombing missions Sunday well below their daily average of about 150 and the record 175 missions flown last week.

The terrorist mine explosion in Saigon was the first such incident in the central part of the capital since the rash of terrorism in the week before the national elections Sept. 11.

The mine, a homemade explosive of plastic and metal pellets apparently detonated by a timing device, was aimed at a bus stop in front of the Ky Son U.S. enlisted men's billet. It went off at 6:30 a.m. as servicemen started to gather at the bus stop to go to work. One American navy enlisted man and a 51-year-old Vietnamese woman were killed. Seven U.S. servicemen and two Vietnamese civilians were wounded.

Boy, 11, Hospitalized In Hit-Run Accident

Ronald White, 11 son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine White of Pughtown, is listed in "guarded" condition today at Weirton General Hospital with a shoulder injury and possible head injuries received in an apparent hit-and-run accident Saturday night.

The boy was found by a passerby lying unconscious along side his crushed bicycle in a ditch near the Pughtown School about 10:30.

The Hancock County sheriff's department is conducting an investigation.

As Leaders Convene

Russian Papers Blast Red China In Fresh Attacks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union made a sweeping press attack against Red China today as East European Communist chiefs gathered here for talks that could end in a joint condemnation of Peking.

The controlled Soviet press was clearly laying the groundwork for a common blast of China by Soviet bloc leaders should they decide to issue one. A joint criticism could only deepen the split in the Red camp.

Pravda, the Communist Party organ and the most influential Soviet paper, carried three separate attacks on Peking today. All were summary articles reviewing prior criticisms. But it appeared significant that Pravda should carry three such articles on a day when Soviet bloc leaders were arriving for talks on China.

Communist sources have reported both the Soviet bloc meeting on China and a space launch planned for Thursday, but neither has been announced. But leaders of all Soviet bloc countries not already in the city are expected soon.

The Pravda articles all pictured the split with Peking as a division between China and practically all other Communist parties. All blamed China for the lack of Communist unity in Viet Nam and elsewhere. All said that in blocking unity China was helping imperialist forces.

One commentary summarized recent statements by Communist parties in other countries and said "unanimous condemnation of the political course pursued by the Chinese leadership is typical."

Communist China continued to accuse the Soviet union of "naked collusion" with the United States to carry out counter-revolutionary strategy.

An article in the official Peking People's Daily asserted that President Johnson's proposal for a mutual U.S.-Soviet troop reduction in Europe was designed to free American forces there and concentrate them against North Viet Nam and China.

Double Figures Continue

28 More Claimed By Ohio's Traffic

Ohio's weekly traffic toll for Friday night through Sunday night is beginning to sound like a record with a stuck needle or to resemble the stuck needle on a demolished car's speedometer.

It isn't a pretty record. It's as ugly as a wrecked car.

For the fifth time in five weekends, the tally has hit 26 or higher.

The count has gone 28, 35, 28, 26 — and this time 28.

A triple fatality auto smashup near Van Wert, double fatal crashes in Trumbull County and Montgomery County and a seemingly ceaseless stream of other death-dealing accidents accounted for the record of the latest 54-hour period surveyed.

"Two-car or single-car wrecks took most of the toll. Three pedestrian deaths were recorded Sunday, all on highways outside municipalities.

Fatalities reported since noon Saturday:

Saturday
Paul McDade, 60, Sharon, Pa., and Patricia Taylor, 29, Girard, when a car driven by McDade's daughter skidded on wet pavement on Ohio 82 near Warren, crossed the median strip and hit Mrs. Taylor's auto.

Owen Butcher, 34, Cleveland, passenger in an auto that struck a utility pole in Brooklyn, Cuyahoga County.

Marvin Dietz, 42, Akron, in a head-on auto collision in Akron.

Wayne S. Wolfe, 16, of near Hamilton whose car skidded onto a bridge on a Butler County road southwest of Hamilton.

Thomas J. Horst, 41, Willoughby, when his car apparently missed a turnoff onto the Memorial Shoreway in Cleveland.

and plunged into Lake Erie.

Mrs. Lillian McGuire, 49, Akron, passenger in an auto that hit a concrete stanchion on the Akron Expressway.

Walter Little, 26, Youngstown, in a two-car crash on wet pavement on Youngstown's Oak Street Bridge.

Henry H. Hoover, 25, of near Steubenville, in a two-car wreck on Ohio 151 south of Steubenville.

The count has gone 28, 35, 28, 26 — and this time 28.

SUNDAY
Charles D. Hogue, 36, Indiana, Ind. Naomi Hogue 48, Wren, Van Wert County and Marguerite C. Rains, 66, Rockford, when the Hogue auto and one in which Mrs. Rains was a passenger collided at the U.S. 127-Ohio 709 intersection south of Van Wert.

James Benton, 30, and Charles A. Bue, 26, Bellbrook, near Dayton, when their car veered off U.S. 35 west of New Lebanon and struck a house in Montgomery County.

Thant Takes Bloc Protest To Goldberg

Zionist 'Invasion' Of Syrian Mission Results In Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant planned to meet U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg today to relay an Asian-African protest against the Zionist invasion last week of Syria's U.N. mission. The incident focused attention on renewed demands from some delegates that the United Nations move from New York.

A group of 19 young American Zionists, carrying such signs as "Peace in the Middle East" and "Stop Syrian Aggression," marched into the Syrian offices to hold a prayer vigil. New York police arrested them and a court hearing is set for Nov. 25.

The 62-nation African-Asian group asked Thant to protest the violation of the Syrian premises to the United States. The secretary-general said he would stress "the necessity of ensuring the safety of representatives to the United Nations and their premises" and also would convey the group's feelings that more adequate steps should be taken to that end.

Since the incident occurred, Syrian Ambassador George J. Tomah has had police protection at home and on his diplomatic rounds.

The Zionist invasion was made Friday as the U.N. Security Council was meeting to decide whether to take up an Israeli complaint that Syria sends demolition squads into Israel. The council was to continue its debate this afternoon.

Saudi Arabian delegate Jamil M. Baroudy told a newsmen he will suggest to the General Assembly's budget committee that the United Nations consider moving its headquarters to Europe — preferably Switzerland.

New York, he said, is too crowded and too expensive. Negro delegates suffer racial slights and diplomats generally are hounded by "pressure groups" and promoters.

The General Assembly prepared to admit Botswana and Lesotho to U.N. membership, which would bring the organization's roll to 121 countries. The two African nations emerged from British rule last month. They were recommended for membership by the Security Council.

Thieves Tie Guard, Take Ton Of Nickel

NEW BRIGHTON — Between 2,500 and 3,000 pounds of nickel were carted off from the Damascus Steel Casting Co. early Sunday morning by thieves who bound and gagged a 70-year-old watchman.

George Hanne of Rochester, the watchman, was found tied in a washroom by another employee reporting for work Sunday morning at 6:45.

He told police two men jumped him — one a big, stocky person and another he was unable to see.

Child, 2, Hurt In Auto Crash By 'Adelines' On Lisbon St.

A 2-year-old Salineville child was examined and released at City Hospital after a collision on a curve on the Lisbon St. Hill late Saturday afternoon which caused heavy damage to two autos.

The collision involved a south-bound 1964 four-door sedan driven by Dale Norman, 17, of Oakmont and a northbound 1960 two-door sedan operated by Harold A. Raffle, 28, of Foundry Hill, Salineville.

Christine Lynn Raffle of Salineville, a passenger in her father's car, was X-rayed and released at the hospital following the collision at 4:43 p. m., police said. She suffered a small laceration of the inside of the upper lip when hurled against the interior of the car, the hospital said.

The collision damaged the entire left front of each auto, officers reported. Norman told police he was headed downgrade and as he began to round a turn his car began to slide. He was unable to control the car, which crossed the center line and hit Raffle's auto, he said.

Raffle said he pulled to the right as far as possible in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the collision. Patrolman Leonard Richard investigated.

A mishap on E. 5th St. Saturday at 7:38 p. m. involved a 1958 two-door sedan driven by Keith P. Myler, 16, of 152 Haywood St., Beechwood, and a 1965 model two-door sedan operated by Georgia A. Renner, 45, of 1647 Pennsylvania Ave.

The collision damaged the left front door of the Myler car, which was halted, but there was no damage to the Renner vehicle, police said. Myler said his car was in the left lane of the one-way street when the woman, pulling from a parking space, hit his auto.

A 1962 two-door sedan driven by Robert J. Croyle, 45, of 175 Thompson Ave. and a 1951 model truck operated by Albert R. Howell, 21, of Irondale R. D. 1 were damaged in a collision Saturday at 7:27 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. at St. Clair Ave.

The mishap damaged the left rear fender and bumper of Croyle's car, which was halted, and the left bumper of Howell's truck, police said.

Rhodes Wins Support Of Columbus Dispatch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"The Dispatch does not 'give' endorsements," the Columbus Dispatch said editorially Sunday in endorsing Gov. James A. Rhodes for re-election. "It only recognizes candidates who have earned the right to them . . . we feel he has doubly earned that right."

The newspaper which supported Rhodes in his 1962 campaign, recommended him this time to its readers "because he has kept his pledges, making Ohio a better and more prosperous state in which to live." The Dispatch said "Ohio has come vibrantly alive, pulsating with new enthusiasm under the driving personality" of the Republican governor.

Activities Set By 'Adelines'

Mrs. Norma Jones was appointed chairman of a "home stretch" project in conjunction with a ways and means program from International during a meeting of the Sweet Adeline chapter Friday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

A slogan was selected from 10 to be presented to the Region 16 office. The entry was submitted by Mrs. Jan Dietz. Mrs. Bette Damaska acted as teller.

Miss Karen Jones reported on tickets for the show "Cotton Town Capers" to be given Nov. 5. A report on uniforms was given by Mrs. Madalyn Mack.

Other members who presented reports were Miss Jennie Jones, the regional meeting at Buffalo, N. Y. in September; Mrs. Doris Cameron, ways and means; Mrs. Sonya Rose, correspondence; Mrs. Bonnie Blackmore, secretary, and Mrs. Alberta Bates, treasurer.

Directories compiled by Mrs. Rose and the international magazine, "Pitchpipes," were distributed.

Members filled out questionnaires relative to business of the chapter. They will be evaluated by the executive committee.

The group gave a standing applause to Mrs. Alberta Bates, a past historian, for the scrapbook she prepared and designed and which took first place at the regional meeting.

The members will meet tonight at 6:30 at the Potters parking lot and then depart for Salem, where they will sing at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Eugene Seferd of Lima was a guest. Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, presided, and Mrs. Nancy Beaver, director, was in charge of the rehearsal that followed the meeting.

Crash Hurts 4 Teen-Agers In Ohioville

Two Midland area teen-agers were hospitalized following a one-car mishap on Ridgmont Dr. in Ohioville, and an industry man was hurt in another accident early Sunday morning.

Gary Marciniak, 17, of 145 Fairlane Dr., Meadowbrook Estates, and Marian Catracchia, 17, of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1 were in "satisfactory" condition today at Rochester General Hospital.

Marciniak, the driver, received an arm injury, cut of the right knee and bruises of the abdomen when the 1962 sedan veered off a curve and rammed a tree, demolishing the auto. Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said.

The girl suffered multiple lacerations of the left arm, a cut finger and abrasions of the lower leg.

Raymond DiCicco of Sunrise Hills and Patty Caparella of Industry were shaken and bruised in the crash. The mishap was timed at 1 a.m.

Anthony Granito, 36, of 1245 Avondale Dr., Industry, was in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital with a laceration of the scalp received when his car hit a guard rail at Cooks Ferry about 3 a.m. yesterday.

Charles Wesley was born Dec. 28, 1908.

Driver Fined For Speeding

Raymond E. Tally, 21, of Youngstown was fined $20 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30.

Tally was cited Thursday at 7 p.m. by the State Highway Patrol. The judge warned a repetition of the offense will lead to a suspension of his driver's license.

George B. Majanosky of Fredricktown, Pa., cited at the same time for speeding 60 miles an hour in the same stretch of Route 30, forfeited a $17.50 appearance bond.

Robert L. Wetzel of 401 5th St., Wellsville, charged with speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone Oct. 9 on Route 7, forfeited a $22.50 appearance bond.

Franklin V. Chandler of 123 W. 4th St., accused of operating a motorcycle with a noisy muffler, was fined $10 and costs with the fine suspended on payment of costs. Cited Friday afternoon on the Diamond by Patrolman William A. Devon, he told the judge the faulty muffler has been repaired.

The judge granted a continuance until next Monday in the case of David R. McIntosh, 22, of 329 E. 8th St., charged with failure to stop after a traffic accident and give the information required by law. He was cited by Patrolman Paul Blevins Saturday at 4:33 a.m. after his car allegedly struck a parked auto on Broadway. The other car is owned by Bruce Blankenship of 317 1/2 E. 3rd St., police said.

Sessions will be held Oct. 24-25. Johnson and his colleagues will review military operations, discuss "the other war" to promote prosperity and democracy in South Viet Nam and explore possible avenues to peace.

The conference was set up by Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos and almost coincides with the eve of the American off-year election, Nov. 8.

Johnson, stung by suggestions that he might find domestic political value in the overseas meeting, has said he wanted to go to after the November elections. But, he reported, this proved impractical because Australia and New Zealand both have parliamentary elections Nov. 26.

In both countries, participation in the Viet Nam war is a campaign issue. In the New Zealand capital of Wellington, where the Johnsons will spend Tuesday night, posters denouncing the war appeared in the streets but were taken down by police.

Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake said today "sneak threats" have been made to his wife and daughters in connection with the Johnson visit. He said one telephone caller told him he overheard a group plotting the prime minister's assassination.

Australia Checks Threat Against LBJ

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Newspapers in Adelaide and Sydney said today they had received telephone calls saying an attempt would be made on President Johnson's life when he visits Australia this week.

The papers said anonymous calls had been referred to the Australian Security Service. It declined to comment, but a senior police officer in Sydney said it was not unusual for the police to receive all sorts of telephone calls and threats to important visitors to Australia.

A caller told a reporter on the Adelaide News that a group from Adelaide planned to take a rifle with a telescopic sight to Sydney to shoot President Johnson.

Carnations 'Blossom' In Credit Union Week

Most city employees and officials were wearing carnations on their shirts or dresses today to call attention to the fact they are members of the City Employees Credit Union, which is conducting a drive to sign new members.

In connection with the week-long observance, Mayor George E. Willshaw has proclaimed Thursday as "Credit Union Day."

Mrs. Helen Steffen, who is in charge of the membership drive, devised the plan for each member to wear a carnation. The corsage also includes a card which shows the employee's name and his office, if any, in the credit union.

Library To Open Story Hour Here At 10 Wednesday

The fall session of the preschool story hour will get underway Wednesday at Carnegie Library here, with children between the ages of 4 and 6 eligible to attend.

As seating capacity is limited, each child must register. A few openings remain and those wishing to have a child attend are urged to call relative to registration.

There are two sessions each Wednesday for six weeks, with each session lasting one hour. The morning hour is 10 and the afternoon at 2.

Assisting again this year will be Mrs. Marvin Triguba, with her repertoire of games and songs, and Mrs. William G. Billingsley, story-teller.

Young City Pair Hurt In Motorcycle Upset

A young East End couple was injured Saturday when the motorcycle they were riding skidded and overturned in Ohioville.

Thomas David Scott of 1702 Etruria St. and Bonnie S. Reed of 1078 Pennsylvania Ave. were treated at City Hospital following the mishap. She received abrasions of the hands and knee and he suffered abrasions and cuts of the arm and knee, and was later admitted. He was in "fair" condition today.

Motorcycle Use Case Slated On Wednesday

Granting the defendant's request for a continuance to allow him to secure counsel, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today allowed a continuance until Wednesday morning in a case in which Robert E. Buckley, 18, of the Y & O Rd. is accused of operating a motorcycle without the owner's consent.

The misdemeanor charge was filed by Lt. Robert B. Pyle. He and Patrolman David K. Maw cited Buckley at 1:56 a.m. Saturday, accusing him of operating a 1966 motorcycle which had been reported stolen from the home of Carl F. Crabtree of 209 Ravine St.

Queried by the judge this morning, Buckley said he has been AWOL since Sept. 15 from Ft. Lee, Va. The judge set his appearance bond at $500. Police said a 17-year-old boy apprehended on another motorcycle stolen from Crabtree's home is due for a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Chester Firemen Check 2 Alarms

Chester volunteer firemen were summoned to the residence of Hubert Myers of 515 Louisiana Ave. about 10:55 p.m. Sunday to investigate smoke in the cellar of the home.

It was traced to a short-circuit in the motor of an automatic washer which was disconnected by the firemen.

In an earlier call at 7:30 Saturday night, firemen investigated a temporary power outage at the substation near Orion Ave. Walter Jordan, manager of the Chester office of the Monongahela Power Co., said power was interrupted for a few seconds as the result of a broken insulator.

Repairs were completed by a Weirton crew, Jordan said.

James A. Rhodes For Governor

He Has Been Good For The State Of Ohio!

If ever a governor deserved re-election, he is James A. Rhodes.

The Review enthusiastically endorses him for a second four-year term.

Never in our history has Ohio had a governor with the enthusiasm, the energy, the driving force and the leadership qualities of Jim Rhodes.

He has been a governor whose interest and dedicated service extend to all the people. He has kept his campaign promises, he has sold Ohio from one end of the country to the other and even abroad, and he has restored fiscal solvency by wiping out an inherited deficit and creating a state treasury surplus.

WHEN MR. RHODES was bidding to unseat Gov. DiSalle four years ago, he pledged a tireless campaign to create thousands of new jobs through industrial expansion and a business climate highlighted by the slogan, "Profit Is Not a Dirty Word in Ohio."

That he has performed on this promise no one can deny. New industries have been attracted into the state and existing Ohio industry has expanded at a record pace. Industrialists have shown confidence in Gov. Rhodes and his administration. People believed him when he pledged no new taxes. And he has kept his word.

Education, recreation and transportation have been major beneficiaries of the governor's program for Ohio and Ohioans.

Most of the physical accomplishments of Gov. Rhodes' program have been financed through bond issues. They were initiated and promoted by him and approved by the voters of Ohio. They have thrust the state forward in schools, parks, highways, airports and mental facilities.

A vast public and private investment has been made in the future of Ohio during the first term of Gov. Rhodes. The state has been on the move, and with the governor leading the resurgence, Ohioans have been instilled with a new sense of pride in the wonderful things they have right at home.

Not all has been done that perhaps will need to be done in the fields of greater financial support for welfare and schools, and these have been the areas in which criticism has been the most prevalent. The governor, we feel sure, will find ways to close the gaps on any such deficiencies in his second term.

MILLIONS of dollars have been spent on the governor's program without the slightest hint of scandal. In fact, everything about the Rhodes administration has been remarkably clean. Not even the Liquor Department or the Highway Department, which have borne the brunt of criticism in some past administrations, have come under any legitimate attack.

This remarkable record has been accomplished because the governor has a reputation for surrounding himself with able, conscientious people. He demands honesty and prudence in government and he gets it because he watches over it personally every waking minute.

Gov. Rhodes has been Ohio's super-salesman. He loves his state and the people in it. He wants everyone to have a job so that he can enjoy the better life and educate his family.

He has been good for Ohio and Ohio has been good to him. We hope this happy and fortunate marriage continues.

New Approach

A study by Dr. George Sternlieb of Rutgers Graduate School of Business Administration gives the Department of Housing and Urban Development a fresh bone to chew.

The congressional approach to eradication of slum housing conditions has been construction of low-rent public housing.

Families were plucked from decaying areas and placed in public housing in urban renewal locations.

This was an assist to the relocated family, but vacated quarters often were taken over by another family and the slum remained.

Dr. Sternlieb, in his report financed mainly by the federal government, proposes steps be taken to increase the number of resident-owned tenements in deteriorating areas.

The report recognized such a program would require a highly coordinated effort in terms of tax policy, financing help, code enforcement and advisory services.

Is Russia Playing Possum?

The Soviet Union may be planning a big space surprise for the United States and the rest of the world.

Much care has been taken since the last Soviet manned space shot in March 1965 to make it appear Russia is in deep trouble with its program.

Some unmanned shots have misfired, but the West has been unable to assess the total impact of these flops on the over-all program because objectives have never been outlined.

In the meantime, the United States apparently has surged far ahead in the space race. The Soviet Union's program always has been shrouded in secrecy.

At the 17th International Astronautical Congress in Madrid, a Soviet expert said his country has a number of difficult problems to overcome before a manned lunar trip can be accomplished.

Russia has used its space prowess as a cold-war weapon.

Why then in the last year has the propaganda weapon been surrendered without a struggle? Why are no excuses forthcoming in an attempt to save face?

Did the United States really surpass Russian technology in such a hurry?

Gulf Is Still Wide

WASHINGTON

A seeming Soviet willingness to do business with the United States may be due in part to Red China's setbacks in the struggle for leadership of the Communist world.

This opinion comes from some U.S. diplomats after four exploratory sessions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko — three with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko's call on President Johnson.

A year ago Gromyko stayed away from Washington, though he was in New York for the U.N. General Assembly opening. U.S. forces were then going into Viet Nam in a big way and a seemingly potent Peking was accusing the Soviet Union of conniving with the "imperialist" enemy.

THIS FALL Gromyko agreed to final talks aimed at starting direct U.S.-Soviet commercial air service, he abandoned some earlier objections to a treaty to preserve outer space for peaceful use and he showed interest in a pact to outlaw the spread of nuclear weapons.

U.S. Kremlinologists who see in this a warming-up of U.S.-Soviet relations are inclined to give some credit to Mao Tse-tung — for the Chinese leader's Red Guard rampage which has tumbled Peking's prestige inside as well as outside of the Communist camp.

According to this theory, Moscow has forged so far ahead in the Sino-Soviet rivalry that the Kremlin can shrug off China's charges and feel free to pursue its own foreign policy ends.

There is another school of thought among Washington experts which fails to find any marked improvement in Moscow-Washington relations at this time.

THEY SAY the Kremlin leadership has kept the door open right along for East-West accords which might suit the Soviets. They note Gromyko continued to brand America as the aggressor in Viet Nam, voice support for Hanoi and rebuff peace approaches.

This analysis sees Kremlin policy as partly harsh, partly accommodating toward the West and pragmatic in dealing with any specific item. So what looks like a smile from Moscow today on one issue could turn to a frown tomorrow on another.

But the differing interpretations do come to one common conclusion: That a wide gulf still separates Washington from Moscow and bridging it will not be easy.

The 1918 flu epidemic was the most destructive in history. It ranks with the Black Death in lives taken. More than 20 million persons throughout the world died in a few months, 548,000 of them in the United States alone.

Hanoi Seen Ready For Peace

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON—Word has just come from the French labor movement that Ho Chi Minh's government is considering preliminary discussion leading towards eventual peace negotiations — "even before the U.S. troops from Vietnamese territory."

This might be just another feeler — except for the electrifying fact that this section of the French labor movement which dispatched this message to authorities here is the Communist General Confederation of Labor, the notorious CGT.

This is the hardest, toughest, most disciplined Communist labor federation in the free world. For generations it has set the line for Communists in North America. Word from its leaders always has been immediately taken as the message from Moscow.

Victor Riesel

SOME AMERICAN labor specialists in Communist affairs — though traditionally suspicious of any maneuver by the CGT—are puzzled, but give credence to the word from Paris.

It has the sound of authority because it has the backing of the powerful Benoit Frachon, who as CGT secretary general is absolute paramount chief of the million-member movement.

It has been established that the usually vituperatively anti-American CGT did not pull this peace message out of some old Parisian red belt bar.

The CGT has had several of its top officials in Southeast Asia for months. One of these is the CGT deputy secretary, Georges Seguy, who returned from Hanoi early in September. While there he talked with Ho and North Vietnamese Secretary General Le Duan.

WHEN COMRADE SEGUY returned from Hanoi, he told a gathering of French Communists that there was reason to believe that the North Vietnamese government was ready to talk with intermediaries dispatched by the U.S.

It has been verified that on the night of Sept. 4 Seguy told high French Communists that "the North Vietnamese government would agree to consider the possibility of starting negotiations with the Americans even prior to the definite withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnamese territory."

"A probable formal pledge of the American government to retire its troops and concurrent discontinuation of the air bombing of North Viet Nam," said Seguy, "would create a new situation."

There are witnesses to attest to this statement. It must be given considerable credence because Seguy talked to the most authoritative opinions in Hanoi.

WHAT COMPOUNDS the puzzlement here is the fact that the CGT is absolutely controlled by the French Communist party and would not grunt without permission of the French CP central committee. The party, even in the Gaullist French state of today, polled 3,992,431 votes and won 40 seats in the Parliament in the last general election.

The impression here is that the information has been put on the desk of UN Ambassador Arthur Goldberg—whom the President still considers his most knowledgeable labor specialist.

The French Communist labor statement is believed to be in part responsible for Mr. Goldberg's constant reiteration of confidence that Hanoi may yet agree to heed his UN appeal for negotiations.

It's not at all strange that labor channels should be used for communications on an international level. Few realize that many governments are controlled by labor leaders or their allies these days—all the way from London to Stockholm to Singapore.

What better man than Arthur Goldberg, former special counsel to the AFL-CIO and to American presidents, as the conduit to such powerful labor leaders abroad?

There is speculation, therefore, that Mr. Goldberg soon will leave his UN post to shuttle across the world as a latter-day Harry Hopkins.

This could be the "sacrifice" which President Johnson has said he would ask "Arthur" to make.

More Than Talk

People don't just talk about the weather. Inadvertently they do a lot about it, too.

A man affects the weather infinitesimally every time he drives his car, lights a fire, or adjusts the thermostat in his house, the National Geographic Society says. He alters the weather very slightly when he chops down a tree or seeds his lawn.

In building a city, man causes enormous changes in the local weather. A large industrial city in the United States may have 25 per cent less wind, up to 10 per cent more rainfall and twice as many winter fogs as the surrounding countryside. The mean winter temperature will be perhaps two or more degrees higher.

Large industrial cities like London and Manchester have as much as 30 minutes less daylight, 45 minutes less sunshine and 50 per cent less ultraviolet radiation than the open country nearby.

A onetime forested region in southeastern Tennessee became barren due to toxic fumes of a copper smelter. Temperatures in the denuded areas averaged three to four degrees warmer than in the surrounding woodlands. Winter winds in the man-made wasteland blew seven to 10 times harder; summer winds were perhaps 40 times stronger.

Smoke, soot and gases pouring from factories do more than feed sun-dimming smog. They also provide particles around which raindrops can form.

Pie Costs Money

By David Lawrence

Someone Must Pay For Security

The Social Security system has an unfunded deficit of more than $321 billion, but nevertheless President Johnson recommends that benefits to the citizenry be increased by at least 10 per cent.

If the government were to limit its benefits to persons at present paying Social Security taxes and to those already retired and receiving benefits, it would require at least $321 billion in excess of future taxes, plus assets of $21.6 billion at present in the Social Security system.

These are the 1962 figures—the most recent available. It is estimated that the unfunded deficit today is larger. The federal government, therefore, operates the Social Security plan on the assumption that new workers in the future will bring more money.

Assets in the present fund of $21.6 billion are only slightly more than one year's benefit payments. This is why increased payroll taxes have become necessary.

A 22-year-old college graduate who starts working now and retires at age 65 would pay a total of $15,606 in Social Security taxes, while his employer would equal this amount, so the grand total of $31,212 would be paid in for the individual.

But, under Social Security, his retirement benefits would total only $25,704, or $5,508 less than the combined taxes paid by the worker and his employer.

A retired individual is covered by medicare, but it is also to be noted that if the same tax money had been invested by either the employer, or the employee, or both, there would have been an additional source of income for this purpose, too.

The citizen of the future is not going to have as favorable a position as those who paid relatively smaller amounts of taxes in their early years and now are retired or will retire in the near future. The next generation will have to pay even more to offset the increased benefits.

IF A WORKER invested annually an amount equal to his Social Security taxes and received a return of 3 per cent a year, he would have a total of $30,570.

If the employer's taxes were also invested at 3 per cent, the total accumulated would be $61,140. This is far in excess of the expected Social Security benefits under the existing system.

Many individuals are aware that an amount invested at 2½ per cent to be paid to them at age 65 would guarantee them the same monthly benefit as will be paid under Social Security and would cost about $25,160, much less than Social Security taxes over the years prior to retirement at age 65.

Some statisticians have figured out that a person might be better off by taking out private insurance.

There are extra advantages in the government plan, such as possible benefits for the family. But the amount of money paid by the new employee and his employer prior to retirement age will in many cases be in excess of what the government doles out in the form of benefits.

Now, moreover, as Social Security taxes are going to be increased to offset the rise in benefits, the individual will be paying far more than he will receive, unless the benefits are increased in the future and the added costs are to be passed on, to be collected annually from the next generation.

THE SOCIAL SECURITY system in reality is a enforced savings. Many individuals would never put aside the necessary funds each year to take care of retirement.

But today more and more companies are developing retirement plans, and Social Security benefits are often a fraction of what the individual receives under private retirement and insurance plans.

The announcement that there is going to be a 10 per cent increase in benefits sounds as if the federal government has suddenly become generous.

The truth is that the U.S. Treasury has not collected enough money to pay all the benefits that would accrue if it did not keep on collecting from future citizens large sums to take care of the present generation.

What looks like a piece of pie for some citizens means higher taxes for others.

Miss Resnick pointed out the same section provides that "no person shall write, print, post or distribute or cause to be written, printed, posted or distributed, a notice, placard, dodger, advertisement, sample ballot or any other form of publication which is designed to promote the nomination or election or defeat of a candidate or to promote the election unless there appears on such form of publication in a conspicuous place or is contained within said statement the name and residence address of the chairman or secretary of the organization issuing same, or the person who issues, makes or is responsible therefor."

The current law, effective in November 1963, is a revision of previous laws covering the same subjects.

Generally speaking, the laws require all political literature issued in connection with an election must contain the residence address as well as the name of the chairman or secretary of the organization issuing it or the person responsible for it.

Revised Code Sec. 3599.09, which affects all candidates and questions and issues, increases the penalty for violation to a fine of not less than $300 nor more than $2,000. Under the old

The statute provides, however, that a political communication issued by a regularly constituted party central or executive committee shall be sufficiently identified if it bears the name of the committee and its chairman. The law also applies to "sample ballots," which must show the "residence address" of the person issuing them, rather than simply the "address."

Before the current law took effect, many persons used a post office box for an "address" when signing political notices. The law also covers persons who print or publish political advertising, as well as the person who places the order. The publisher is required to make certain the ad is signed properly.

The amended law also requires residence addresses in all cases where merely "addresses" were required formerly as part of the identification of persons uttering political communications over the broadcasting facilities of any radio or television station in Ohio. Other changes in the statute provide: 1. "No person shall use or cause to be used a false, fictitious or fraudulent name or address in the making or issuing of a publication of communication included within the provisions of the Corrupt Practices Act, and 2. No person shall print, post, publish, circulate or distribute a written or printed false statement, knowing the same to be false, concerning a candidate which is designed to promote the defeat of such candidate."

Leaders Okay GE Action, But Local Issues Remain

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson set up a Taft-Hartley board today to look into widespread strikes against General Electric Co. plants in a half-dozen states.

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers have ratified a new contract with the General Electric Co. but several union locals called strikes over local issues.

Some 20,000 workers at a jet engine plant in Evendale, Ohio, and GE installations at Schenectady and Auburn in upstate New York already have walked out.

Early today some 2,000 machinists struck the Utica, N.Y., plant. Strike threats also loomed at Louisville, Ky., and Pittsfield, Mass.

At Louisville, a strike vote was scheduled for 11 a.m. EDT today by 300 members of the Skilled Craft Guild. The plant employs 12,000 workers, with 10,000 being represented by the IUE. The IUE voted Sunday to honor the Guild picket line.

At Warren, Mich., some 1,100 United Auto Workers struck GE's Carbonyl Division after a fruitless weekend bargaining session. Carbonyl, which has some defense contracts, is the only producer of man-made diamonds in the United States.

The GE contract, worked out in Washington Friday under presidential pressure, was approved by the IUE's General Electric Conference Board. The contract terms also met the approval of 10 other unions with which the IUE held coordinated negotiations. The IUE represents 80,000 of GE's 125,000 workers in 160 plants.

The new contract means an average rise in wages from the present $2.84 an hour to $3.12 an hour over the contract length. Including fringe benefits, the workers' package comes to 15 cents an hour over the three years.

Pickets On March In Cincinnati Area

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pickets from two labor unions walked today at the gates of the General Electric Co. jet engine plant in suburban Evendale.

The plant, which employs 14,500 persons, was struck at 11 p.m. Sunday by local 912 of the International Association of Machinists and local 647 of the United Auto Workers Union. The unions represent about 6,300 workers.

The machinists called the strike after union members overwhelmingly rejected the "model contract" accepted by the coalition of 11 unions representing GE employees. The auto workers had earlier authorized a strike at the plant that makes engines used by both military and commercial aircraft.

Spokesmen for both unions cited local issues and grievances as the reason why no agreement was reached.

A strike was averted at the GE plant in suburban Blue Ash when negotiators for local 1198 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers reached tentative agreement on a new contract. The 550 union members are scheduled to vote on the contract Tuesday. The Blue gash plant makes electrical equipment.

Charles T. Ohmer, manager of union relations for the Evendale plant, said it will remain open.

A company spokesman called the strike the first to occur during contract talks in 13 years. Both the machinists and auto workers struck the Evendale plant at separate times last spring because of GE policy in handling grievances. The strikes were brief.

Delaware Loses Its Vote Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to permit Delaware to file a suit challenging constitutionality of the state unit vote system of choosing presidential electors.

The court in a brief order merely said "the motion for leave to file a bill of complaint is denied."

The high tribunal gave permission to Kentucky, Pennsylvania, North and South Dakota, Oklahoma, Utah, Wyoming, Florida, Iowa, Arkansas, Kansas and West Virginia to line themselves up with Delaware as prospective complainants. There it turned back the whole action.

David P. Buckson, Delaware attorney general, had asked permission to file an original suit in the high tribunal under the Constitution's grant of authority for the court to settle controversies between states.

Buckson's request for permission to sue said that under the unit vote system the total number of presidential electoral votes of a state "is arbitrarily misappropriated" for the candidate receiving a bare plurality of the total number of citizens' votes cast within the state.

Car Injuries Fatal

Salem Youth Hurt As Car Shears Pole

An 18-year-old Salem youth was in "serious" condition at a Youngstown hospital today with severe injuries received in a spectacular one-car mishap on Route 14 a half-mile east of Salem early Sunday morning.

Phillip Strojec, of S. Union St., Salem, suffered a head injury and lacerations of the cheeks, shoulder, forehead, neck, left forearm, knee and hand.

The son of Stanley Strojec, he is in the intensive care unit of the Youngstown Southside Hospital.

James Roberts, 19, of Salem was treated at Salem City Hospital for injuries of the lower back.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said their car, owned by the older Strojec, ran off the south side of the road, then crossed the highway and went off the north side, hit a utility pole, shearing it off and rolling over into a tree.

The car also tore up the yard and shrubs of the Eldon Groves farm.

Officers, still investigating, said they are uncertain which youth was driving.

South African Trial Hinges On Sanity Plea

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dimitrio Tsafendas went on trial today for the murder of Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, and his attorney contended that he was mentally disordered.

The defense contention delayed all testimony concerning the murder charge as well as Tsafendas' plea to the charge. South African law provides that the court must first rule on the defendant's sanity. If he is found mentally disordered he will be committed to a mental institution.

Verwoerd was fatally stabbed in Parliament Sept. 6. Moments after the prime minister fell, Cabinet ministers and other members of Parliament seized Tsafendas, 48, who had been working as a parliamentary messenger. He has been described as a mulatto, although he had passed for white in racially segregated South Africa.

Allspice, with a flavor similar to cinnamon, nutmeg and clove, comes from the dried berry of a West Indian tree known as "pimiento." Allspice is used to season food, especially pickles and liqueurs, and oil from the berries provides a perfume for toilet soaps, and disguises the flavor of medicines.

The contribution of Australian manpower to the Allies during World War I was almost unparalleled — 416,000 Aussies volunteered for service and some 329,000 of them served overseas. Of these, slightly more than 59,000 were killed in action. In addition, Australia handed over unconditionally the ships and men of its navy to the British government.

Doctors Making Use Of Dial-Bed Service

MELBOURNE (AP) — Melbourne doctors are making use of Australia's first dial-bed service for hospital patients.

Nine big public hospitals are in the scheme and more are preparing to join.

The service reduces the time it takes to get a hospital bed for people who suddenly become ill. Twice daily, the hospitals report to ambulance headquarters what beds are available and for what type of cases. The beds and the types are then listed on a central control board.

Doctors must first check with the local hospital. If no bed is available there, the doctor can then ring the service to see where he can place the patient.

Doctors say they are now getting beds in just two telephone calls, against as many as 12 calls before the service began.

Sometimes It Costs
More To Enforce Law

AUCKLAND (AP) — Sometimes it costs much more to enforce the law than to break it, the Akaroa County Council, in New Zealand has discovered.

The council prosecuted a farmer because his fence encroached on to a public road. To take the case to court the council had to pay 160 New Zealand pounds ($448) in surveyor's fees and 41 pounds ($131) to its lawyer. These charges totalled more than eight times the amount the farmer was fined — 25 pounds ($70).

GIVE A NEW MOUNTING

Looking for the unusual in gifts this year? Then consider giving your favorite partner a distinctive new mounting for a fine diamond or colored gem. Most likely, if you have been married for some years, her engagement or wedding ring could stand a "new look." Sometimes this is dictated by fashion, but most often by improved family circumstances which makes a more impressive ring within budgetary reach. The addition of other stones to the original, sentimental choice, can create a ring of striking beauty, yet maintain the romance of the engagement diamond.

Family gems also lend themselves to modern mountings that can be worn proudly with today's fashions. One good reason for having turn-of-the-century pieces reset is that the prongs and ring shanks are often worn down to the point where gems are in danger of being lost. In most fine jewelry pieces, the value is in the stones, rather than in the mounting. Like a fine painting which may be reframed every few decades, it is the painted canvas which excites comment and evokes a feeling of beauty, not the surrounding framework holding the art.

Colored stones and diamonds of varying sizes from antique pieces also lend themselves happily to distinctive brooches and pendants. But whether it is a ring, pendant or pin, do let us design and plan your remounting gift early. This is something that cannot be hurried if you are to be really pleased. Your fine gems will be in good hands in our remounting department, in any event, so do give us ample time to create something very special for you.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Is there something I can do about a mirror that has acquired a scratch in the coating on its back?

A.—One usually effective repair can be effected by smoothing a piece of aluminum foil over the back of the mirror, a start. Many other such handy piece the size of the scratch, hints are included in my new household manual now on the market.

Q.—What is a quick and easy and economical way to wax a linoleum floor?

A.—Try scrubbing it with very hot water into which a candle has been shaved. This is a good way to use up those old candle stubs. Be sure all these shavings are melted before you start. Many other such handy hints are included in my new household manual now on the market.

Q.—How can I extricate a cork that has dropped inside an empty bottle?

A.—Pour enough ammonia into the bottle to float the cork and leave it there for a few days. Enough of the cork will then have been eaten away to permit its removal.

Q.—How can I avoid any unpleasant odors in my kitchen drain?

A.—If you'll drop a handful of baking soda into the sink overnight, it will purify and clean that unfragrant drain.

Congress Faces Packed Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Driving hard for adjournment by Saturday, Congress has crowded into this week's program more major legislation than it has considered in any previous month this year.

Bills dealing with billions of dollars in appropriations and the war on poverty, food for peace, aid to education, public works, water pollution, unemployment compensation, public health, "truth-in-packaging" and urban rehabilitation are carded for final action in the headlong rush to quit.

Prospects were good for all of them to get through before members of Congress end their work in Washington for the year and hurry home for final campaigning in advance of the Nov. 8 elections. There was some talk of quitting Thursday or Friday.

Most big spending bills previously cleared the Senate and the House are now in compromise form and subject to limited debate.

The 15th and final major appropriation bill of the session starts through the House Tuesday. It would allot $4.9 billion for miscellaneous activities, including aid to elementary, secondary and higher education and the war on poverty. It still has to go through the Senate.

Three other appropriation bills are in the compromise stage and in a position to be disposed of in a hurry. They would provide about $4 billion in funds to finance the State, Justice and Commerce Departments, the federal judiciary, the District of Columbia government and military construction.

Heading into the conference room for adjustment of differences is a bill that would authorize a $1.1-billion, two-year program of urban renewal in selected demonstration cities. It passed the House Friday.

In the same category is an investment tax credit bill passed Friday by the Senate.

Still in conference are highly controversial bills that would boost unemployment compensation benefits and speed sales and gifts of American food to friendly foreign nations.

Ready for final action is a water pollution control compromise calling for expenditure of $3.7 billion over four years.

Another bill awaiting House action would authorize the spending of $149 million in two years for health-planning programs. As it cleared the Senate it called for spending $1.1 billion over four years. It may have to go to conference.

Also on the House calendar is an original measure to authorize $500 million of future appropriations for public works projects. The House also plans to act on a compromise version of the "truth-in-packaging" bill.

And there's still a chance it may consider a bill calling for an increase in Social Security benefits starting next Jan. 1. The Senate has indicated it will not act on that subject this year.

Waiting in the wings for an expected curtain call is a Senate-passed measure that would clear the legal path for merger of the National and American Professional Football Leagues. The Senate tacked it to the investment tax credit bill, and House conferees who will have to work out a compromise seemed inclined to accept it.

Officers Arrest Warren Man For Drunken Driving

A Warren driver was cited for drunken driving after his car rammed another on Route 7 at the intersection with Route 30 late Saturday afternoon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a 1957 coach driven by Jim H. McLain, 38, of Warren hit the rear of a 1963 sedan operated by Fred Davidson, 48, of Youngstown who had halted for a stop sign at the intersection.

Davidson and two passengers in his car were shaken and bruised, but said they would get treatment from their physician. McLain was arrested.

Joseph Francis Fanelli, 20, of 2 E. Main St., Salineville, was injured when his 1966 coach hit an embankment and highway marker sign along Route 644 Saturday morning about five miles south of Hanoverton.

He was headed south when the car went off the roadway at a curve and hit the embankment and sign. There was damage to the rear of the auto. He was treated at Salem Central Clinic.

Atomic Pioneer Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Ross Gunn, 69, who helped develop the atomic bomb and atom-powered submarines as an official of the U. S. Naval Research Laboratory from 1927 to 1947, died Saturday of cancer. He went to the U. S. Weather Bureau in 1947, where he was named second in command in 1955. In 1958 he became research professor of physics at American University, the position he held at his death.

Dig That Lizzie

Model T Taken From 'Grave'

DETROIT (AP)—Perry Andrews' Model T Ford is out of the ground and police Lt. Arthur Allen is out one lawn today after a weekend community dig.

More than 800 persons showed up to watch or dig for the 1911 Tin Lizzie which the sentimental Andrews buried 40 years ago because he couldn't bear the thought of someone altering its classic lines.

It took Andrews, who was chief photographer for the Ford Motor Co. at the time of his death in 1920s, three days to bury the car.

It took half a dozen men and a mechanical shovel 10 hours of digging in the rain Saturday just to find it. It took another 10 hours Sunday to get it out of the hole.

The equipment was donated and the workers were volunteers. Permission to dig was given by the American Concrete Institute which owns the land and loaned it to Lt. Allen to use as a lawn for his home. The only condition was that workers refill the hole and replace the sod.

Harvey Versteeg of the Detroit Historical Museum and Bud Guest, a Detroit radio personality and son of the late poet Edgar A. Guest, were the prime movers in the project. They said they would see that any damage was paid.

The old car was in pretty good shape although Andrews probably would have been shocked to see what nature had done to those classic lines he admired so much.

Drive shaft, axles, transmission and fenders were rusty but recognizable. Some bolts on the rear end had grease on them that was fairly clean.

Versteeg said the car's remains were worth about $200.

Vandal-Hit Cemetery Gets A 'Helping Hand'

Thanks to a helping hand from area firms and individuals, vandal-hit Monroeville Cemetery, near Salineville, has resumed normal operations.

Several weeks ago 16 tombstones were toppled at the burial site and trustees were at a loss as to where to find funds for repairs and the proper procedure involved in weather-sealing the tombstones to their bases.

Trustee Orvan Carter said things are in good condition again today thanks to the Graham and Wagner Co. of East Liverpool, which sent a crane-equipped truck; the Richards Monument Co. of Lisbon, which dispatched two workers with the necessary sealing compound; Carl Roudeshush, president of the Carroll County Rural Electric Cooperative, who dispatched a company truck equipped with a winch; Don Hirst, owner of a lumber firm in Salineville, who loaned his hi-lift, and an area youth, Don Kempf, who aided the trustees in the physical labor involved.

Q.—How can I prevent chromium from rusting?

A.—Chromium itself is rust-proof. But the chromium we usually know is just a thin plating of metal over another metal that will rust, and when this begins to happen, there isn't much that can be done about it. You can, however, prevent this to a good extent by painting the chromium with clear lacquer.

Hits Discrimination

Johnson Renews Bid For Equality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bid-ling a temporary farewell to the congressional election campaign, President Johnson has urged Americans whose forebears felt the sting of discrimination to remember that bitter heritage and become champions of Negro equality.

Johnson never used the term backlash, but his message was clear.

Twice in the days before the Asian mission he begins today Johnson had appealed to people he called newer members of the American majority to make the cause of Negro rights their own.

He sounded that summons Sunday at a Polish-American shrine on a wind-swept hilltop near Doylestown, Pa. He issued an almost identical call last Wednesday to Italian-Americans in a crowded Brooklyn hotel ballroom.

In a year of demonstrations and reports of mounting resistance to the Negro drive for equality, Johnson said millions of Americans were fighting for freedom from discrimination and told a vast crowd of Polish-Americans: "Their struggle is our own affair. Let us make it our cause as well."

Johnson said the color of a man's skin must no more bar his opportunities in America than a name difficult to pronounce, or his national origin.

In Brooklyn he said: "I ask those of you who have crossed the river to extend a helping hand."

Negro demonstrations and demands for open housing have stirred resentment, and at times violence, in some city-area neighborhoods heavy with citizens of recent immigrant descent.

Johnson plans to return to the United States Nov. 1 — with six vote-hunting days to go before the state and congressional balloting.

Republicans charged the President with misrepresenting their historical position on Social Security. The GOP National Committee asked for an investigation by the Nonpartisan Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Inc.

Their complaint, voiced Saturday night, dealt with comments Johnson had made at a news conference Thursday on Republican votes for past Social Security measures.

The Republicans offered figures they said showed more GOP support for the programs than Johnson had given them credit for.

Fined In Traffic Case

NEW CUMBERLAND — Joseph F. Parsons, 20, of East Liverpool was fined $10 and costs in a hearing Saturday before Squire John D. Herron on a charge of driving left of center. He was cited by the Hancock County sheriff's department on West Virginia Route 66.

Guests Visit At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Supply Sgt. Jerry Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knight of Grandview, left Wednesday with his wife and three sons for California after a furlough here. They are scheduled to leave Tuesday for Thailand.

Sgt. Knight, a graduate of Salineville High School, enlisted in the Army in 1950. He has served in Germany twice.

Mrs. Louis Tobin and daughters Bridget and Rachel, Mrs. Mary J. Sherwood and children Jim and Mary Elizabeth visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Strabley Thursday.

Mrs. Bea Hazlett visited the past week with her mother, Mrs. Edith Webb of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Carmela Cozzoli suffered a fracture of the left arm Friday when she fell at her home on Monroe Heights.

Chrysler Orders Payroll Slash In View Of Price Cut

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp. say they don't plan to follow the action of Chrysler Corp. in ordering cuts in salaried employment and other areas.

A spokesman for Chrysler, the nation's third-largest auto maker, said Sunday the firm has urged its nonproduction departments to slash 10 per cent from budgets.

The action is necessary to make up for an estimated $49 million the firm said would be lost because it had trimmed its original 1967 car prices by about $24 a car.

"It is inevitable that some people are going to have to be let go," a Chrysler spokesman said. About 30,000 persons work in general administrative jobs at Chrysler.

Chrysler officials declined to say how many employees might be laid off or discharged.

Bluebirds Hold Fly-Up Exercise

Group 59 of Lincoln School held a Bluebird fly-up ceremonial at Bryan Recreation Center Friday night. Ninety-five attended.

A tour was taken of the center and refreshments were served. Mrs. Robert Ludwig is the leader of Group 59, with her assistants Mrs. Janet O'Hanlon, Mrs. Pearl Payne and Mrs. Debbie Schoolcraft. Mrs. Mary Strobel assisted with refreshments.

Group 59 will meet at Lincoln School Oct. 24 after classes.

Irey Will Take Part In Columbus Meeting

Goldmans Retain Hope That Son Will Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—In the always-locked front door of Aaron Goldman's home there's a peephole, through which a caller can be seen. Inside the house there's a gun.

"It's like locking the barn door," said Sally Goldman.

Once the Goldmans took no such precautions at their home in the fashionable suburb of Surfside. But it was through an unlocked door, that a gunman came in the night last March 28 and kidnaped the Goldmans' son, Danny, 17.

Screaming "Help! Murder!", Danny was dragged away—into oblivion. Nearly seven months later, this is the only unsolved ransom kidnaping on FBI case-books.

Is there a lead left, any hope? "Some day," said an FBI agent, "we'll have to find him. But I've never seen a case like this, and I never expect to see another one."

Joined awake by the screaming of his wife, Goldman saw the silhouette of a short, stocky man, standing just inside the patio door, holding a gun.

"You cheated me," the figure said softly. "I'm here to get even."

Danny, also awakened, entered the room in his pajamas. The intruder told him to keep quiet.

"I want $10,000," he said. "I don't keep that kind of money in the house," Goldman replied. "There's $150. You're welcome to that."

The gunman ordered Danny to get dressed, and told Goldman, "The price is $25,000 now and I'll hold the boy as security. If it is not paid by tonight, it will be doubled."

He promised to telephone instructions for payment of the ransom, but the Goldmans still wait. For a month Goldman, a millionaire contractor, kept $25,000 in small bills in the house. Friends have offered $15,000 more for Danny's safe return.

The money is in a place where it can be obtained quickly, Goldman says, and it will be paid with no questions asked to any go-between the kidnaper will select.

"We believe Danny is still alive," Goldman insists. "We must keep believing it."

But Goldman also offers "a small reward" for location of

Worldwide Check Set In Theft Of Million In Jewels

CHICAGO (AP)—A worldwide lookout has been posted for an estimated $1 million in jewels stolen Saturday morning from the Chicago salon of Tiffany & Co., fashionable New York jeweler.

Police said jewelry dealers in Amsterdam, London, South America, Canada and Mexico have been alerted that the thieves might try to sell the large cache of diamond rings, unset sapphires, rubies, bracelets, necklaces and platinum settings.

Police said four gunmen entered the salon's basement shortly before employees arrived for work. Employees were herded into a storeroom as they arrived.

The gunmen, wearing trench coats and ski masks and armed with an assortment of guns, forced the manager and assistant manager to open a vault.

Some Clergymen Hit Sex Relations Report

LONDON (AP)—Some British clergymen have attacked a church-sponsored report on Christian morality which says extramarital sexual relations cannot be condemned in every instance.

"There are certain rules of almost invariable validity, and one of these is that fornication is wrong," said Dr. William Greer, Anglican Bishop of Manchester.

The report was prepared by a 13-member working group of the British Council of Churches, which is composed of all Christian denominations except the Roman Catholics.

The document is to be presented to the council's meeting in London Oct. 25. It also gives qualified approval to birth control clinics, the use of four-letter words, and masturbation.

Peace Appeal Urged By Pope, Protestants

ROME (AP)—A world Methodist leader suggested today that Pope Paul VI and Protestant leaders issue a joint appeal for world peace.

"It would be a very great step toward Christian unity," said Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia, Pa., former president of the World Methodist Council. The organization represents 50 million Methodists around the world.

Students Spend 3 Days In Wilds, Conquer Nature

DETROIT (AP)—Sustained by apples, porcupine meat and roasted rye kernels, 25 high school pupils came home Sunday, disheveled but cheerful after conquering nature for 72 hours.

One hunter suffered porcupine quill wounds of the left forearm in knocking one of the beasts down from a tree during a quest for food.

"I'm okay now," said Michael Arwood. "I'm still pulling out quills."

Arwood, who was treated at a hospital, and the other pupils spent three days in wilderness near Lupton, 200 miles north of their homes in Warren, a Detroit suburb.

They began the trek with no weapons and little more than their wits, warm clothes and tents to sustain them.

Why did they go?

"Our parents are always telling us that we never face any of the predicaments they had to," said Helmut Kolke, 17. He and he others attend Woods High school in Warren.

Peter Coutas, 23, a psychology teacher who led the expedition, said the youngsters "had everything against them," including a thunderstorm Friday night.

Apples were the only food the youngsters found from Thursday night through Saturday afternoon.

Then Robert Noe and Kolke, a porcupine in a tree they climbed up and knocked he animal down.

On the ground, it was killed by Dan Pappas and George McNabb. Dennis Armstrong skinned it.

Blood Ailment Fatal To Wagner Kin At 49

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Wieland Wagner, who revolutionized the staging of his grandfather's operas, died in the Munich University clinic today, the hospital announced.

House this year but had to cancel the engagement when he became ill.

Doctors said death was caused by a blood ailment. His illness became known during rehearsals for the Bayreuth festival of Wagnerian operas last summer. He was taken to the Munich clinic but kept in close touch with his brother Wolfgang, who supervised the test-

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is an easy way to pack those school lunches on mornings when time is short.

After I go to the grocery store and buy the goodies (donuts, cup cakes, etc.), or when I bake such things, I separate and freeze them in small packages ready for the lunch bags.

Grapes and other fruit, I wash and wrap in individual packages before putting them in the refrigerator.

Potato chips and corn chips I put in small plastic lunch bags before storing.

Most kinds of sandwiches can be frozen and just popped into the lunch boxes each morning before the children leave for school.

No more leftover, stale donuts or cup cakes, and a much more peaceful "prior school morning."

MRS. RICHARDS.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried all kinds of scratching posts to keep my cat from clawing the furniture until I loaded a large cardboard box with old books and heavy objects that I wouldn't be using. Then I wrapped an old piece of carpet around the box and sewed it together.

My cat loves to scratch and claw the carpet.

The secret is that it is heavy and solid. She can get a grip on it and pull and claw all she wants to.

The box provides a little extra storage, and doesn't look bad either.

JOAN JENRICH.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: "Improvisation" is not only my middle name, it's my first and last, too.

I hate myself for it sometimes... at first it was from necessity, then a hobby, then like a habit or vice!

MRS. DIMPLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I solved a real backache by using a child's plastic rake.

Instead of crawling under baby's bed to retrieve toys after he is asleep, I use the rake to drag out the toys.

MRS. D. CALL.

DEAR HELOISE: Some people don't care for celery in soup because of the strings. Try cutting off and washing the bottom stalk-part of the celery which we usually toss in the garbage pail.

Put it in the soup. After cooking the soup, remove the celery core... no strings in the soup, only the delicious celery flavor.

ELIZABETH JOHNSON

DEAR HELOISE: For those rush-rush days when I have ironing to do and don't have time to sit with baby while he takes his bottle... I use a handy bottle holder made from an elastic loop and one of his stuffed animals.

I sew the elastic loop on the animal's back and slip the bottle through it to keep the bottle at the proper level for drinking.

By stuffing the animal's legs between baby and his infant seat, it keeps the bottle holder in place on his tummy.

Of course, I watch him while I iron to see if his bottle falls away from his mouth.

MRS. D. CALL.

DEAR HELOISE: Worn out top sheets make a good pad for a bed by folding them in half and placing them over the mattress.

DORIS

DEAR HELOISE: Regarding the hint about using coffee cans with plastic lids, and making them into knitting cans to hold yarn.

It suggested cutting a hole as large as a dime in the plastic lid to draw the yarn through.

Unless you are going to use unusually large yarn, I find that you can take a metal eyelet from a belt kit and put it in the lid.

It makes a nice size hole, and you have protection from the plastic as the metal eyelet will not cut your yarn.

MRS. LESLIE A. STOUT

Vote Delayed In Town's Bid To Obtain Mill

JEROME, Ark. (AP)—The 35 registered electors in Jerome, a small southeast Arkansas farm market town, will have to wait to vote on an ambitious plan to float a $20-million industrial bond issue.

The election was scheduled for today but Mayor C.C. Gibson Jr. announced late Sunday night that it had been postponed "because we have some things we want to clear up that might cause us some trouble."

"We haven't given up on anything," Gibson said. "We will call another election when we've gotten everything cleared up."

Gibson declined to say what the trouble was or how it was caused.

He did say that Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. "didn't have anything to do with it."

Roosevelt, the Liberal party candidate for governor of New York, said Thursday that he had sent telegrams to federal officials urging that they investigate the Jerome proposal to see if it is "a legal scheme to defraud the government of taxes."

Roosevelt charged that thousands of manufacturing jobs are being lost in New York State because of "runaway shops" moving to Arkansas and other Southern states.

Gibson said he thought it "was rather funny that he would pick up a morsel like this to enhance his political stature. Roosevelt should keep his mouth shut and mind his own chickens."

The bonds would have financed construction of a knitting mill in this town of 82 persons.

The firm asked that it not be identified until after the election and Gibson has declined to identify it. He said the company is based in South Carolina.

The bonds would have been issued under an Arkansas law which provides for tax-exempt revenue bonds to finance industry.

If the company buys the bonds, it would collect tax-free interest and would escape property taxes because the plant would be owned by the city of Jerome.

Crashes Kill Four Ohioans In New York

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Four residents of the Cleveland, Ohio, area were killed in three week-end traffic accidents in western New York state. Six more were injured.

Shirley M. Collier, 27, of Cleveland Heights, and Jeanne Heick, 45, of East Cleveland, perished in a Sunday crash on U.S. 15 at Avoca which also killed a Rochester, N. Y., man and injured his wife critically.

Thomas Niblock, 41, of Rocky River suffered fatal injuries and his wife and three children were hurt in a collision on the New York Thruway in nearby West Seneca Sunday.

Mrs. Wilmeta J. Coats, 23, of Cleveland died and her husband, Clarence, 25, and a Cleveland couple traveling with them were injured in a Saturday wreck on the Thruway in Cheektowaga, a Buffalo suburb.

The non-Ohio victim of the Avoca wreck, a head-on collision, was Frederick S. Seyfert, 66, whose wife received critical head injuries.

The Niblock car, traveling east on the superhighway, crossed a 20-foot-wide mall and struck a westbound car police said. Niblock's wife, Peggy, 40, daughter Margaret, 17, and sons

Thomas, 13, and Stephen, 6, were hospitalized as was the other driver, Marion Hodnett, 57, of Lake View, N. Y.

The Coats, with Leroy Jamerison, 29, and his wife, Gloria, 27, were en route to visit Niagara Falls when their auto skidded off a rain-slicked exit ramp of the state thruway and went down a 40-foot embankment. The injured were taken to a Lackawanna hospital.

Winter Moods

Color Techniques Suggested

Winter isn't just another season — it's a state of mind. It means snowmen and holidays, hot cider and cinnamon, family gatherings and fireside fun.

Your recreation and living rooms should reflect the atmosphere of warmth and cordiality that are associated with the indoor living of the season. These moods can be created easily and quickly with modern paint products.

Color is the by-word in this redecorating scheme. For instance — the icy blues or greens used to convey coolness during summer's heat should be replaced with deeper tones — perhaps in the red or gold spectra — which will produce an opposite effect.

BUT THE National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association at Washington, D.C., reminds you that just as you can play tricks with color it can play tricks on you.

For instance, those colors classified as "dark" and "warm" — such as deep forest green, royal blue or purple — absorb light. If used too extensively on walls, they tend to be depressing and can actually make a room seem smaller.

"Warm" colors generally include the reds, oranges, yellows and yellow-greens. These tones — although they can minimize size if over used — usually convey a feeling of warmth and are emotionally stimulating.

The average home owner will run into the problem of the too small — and yet too cool — room. He now knows that if he uses a bright or deep warm color for atmosphere, he may jeopardize the appearance of size created with paler paint tones.

THERE ARE ways to achieve an atmosphere of warmth with out forfeiting apparent size, however.

One very popular technique calls for the application of a coating in a pale, pale tone — perhaps one of the off-whites — on three of the four walls of a room and a splashy, warm paint color on the fourth. This trick will make the "warm wall" a focal point and yet allow size to continue as the overall impression.

Another much-used method of combating the size-versus-warmth problem consists of using a paint color which is warm — such as one of the yellows — and yet light enough to create the illusion of size in a small room.

But no matter what architectural difficulties you hope to surmount — or what mood you want to create — paint and its rainbow of color is the key which will unlock doors to decorating loveliness in your home the year round.

Training Flares Find Coast Guard On Ball

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) —

Officers conducting a Navy Reserve exercise were interrupted by unexpected guests from the Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard dispatched a patrol boat Sunday after residents along Lake Michigan reported seeing distress flares being fired from the USS Portage.

Coast Guard spokesmen said the Navy forgot to tell them the flares would be part of the training exercise.

Argument At Party Stirs Fatal Shooting

MARION, Ohio (AP) — A party at a rooming house here Sunday ended in an argument and finally the fatal shooting of Charles Edward Johnson, 28.

Johnson, a resident of the house, was shot five times in the head and chest. There were several witnesses, police said after arresting for questioning a Toledo man, 23, who reportedly had been arguing with the victim.

Bedside Table Plans Offered

One of the nicest bedside tables we have seen in a long time was made by a young householder to match a set of twin beds and a dresser.

A long search for a table that would match the bowed front of the dresser and the foot of the beds was fruitless, so he made his own for $4.

The first move after making a rough sketch of what he wanted was to buy four feet of 11-inch shelving. This was cut in half to produce two pieces, each two feet long. A half-circle was drawn on each piece and the corners cut in to the marked circle.

The pieces were then broken out and the circular edge filed and sanded smooth and even. This produced the top and bottom of the table. The next step was to bend a piece of flexible wall board around the two half-moons and nail it into the edge. A piece across the back finished the bulk of the work.

The well-spaced and designed molding effect was secured by cutting pieces of half-inch, half-round molding to the proper length, and then placing them in about three inches of steaming hot water in the bath tub.

This had the same effect as using a steam box, a piece of equipment used by all cabinet-makers when they want to make wood pliable so that it can be bent and shaped. When the molding was soft and workable, it was tacked in place to the front of the table. Two brass knobs with a screwed shank were set into the front.

The beds and dresser, which were secondhand to begin with, had been worked over with paint remover and then painted with two coats of apple green flat paint.

The same color was applied to the table. The dimensions of the table are 26 inches high, 2 feet wide and 11 inches from front to back, just enough to hold a lamp, telephone, book and ashtrays.

There are excellent opportunities for filling out old sets of furniture with matching pieces. And, as a rule, it is easy work for anyone with the slightest mechanical ability. When you are doing this, you have the old pieces in front of you, and the general design to be followed is obvious.

'Little Things' Mean Lot To Home's Value

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Home owners seem to be divided into two classifications: those who live in a house year after year without lifting a hand to make the smallest kind of a repair or adjustment and those who promptly remedy the least defect before it gets worse.

Naturally, the owner who keeps his house in excellent condition has a far greater sale value than the owner who has a rundown establishment. If you take two houses, built at the same time and identical to each other in design and construction, there can be as much as $2,000 in possible sale value between them over a five-year period.

Strange as it may seem, it is the small but painfully obvious defects that downgrade a house. These are more apparent to the prospective buyer than an inadequate heating plant or faulty plumbing, for the simple reason that they advertise themselves.

Nobody can fail to notice a shutter which is hanging lopsided on the wall or a gutter that is sagging away from the roof edge. A cracked and broken cement sidewalk or path is even more noticeable, because subconsciously we glance at the surface we walk upon.

Actually, it would take about 15 minutes to fix the shutter and perhaps an hour to rehang the gutter if it were taken in hand as soon as it was evidently out of line. Cracks in cement surfaces can be filled and smoothed off in short order if they are attended to before frost action or wear increase their size.

Most home owners make a survey of their house before the winter season comes upon them, and then they list the small items which have to be taken care of. It is an excellent habit and one which pays big dividends in the property value.

NEW YORK (AP) — Matthew J. Culligan, former chairman of the board of the Curtis Publishing Co., has been named president and chief executive of the Mutual Broadcasting System, it was announced Sunday.

Culligan left Curtis Publishing last January to assume an advisory role at the Burns International Detective Agency.

Culligan succeeds Robert F. Hurleigh, who resigned his MBS post last Friday.

LONDON (AP) — Philip Kaiser, U.S. deputy ambassador in Britain, attended the unveiling Sunday of a memorial window to Sir Winston Churchill at Dorchester Abbey, Oxfordshire.

The abbey's 620-year-old east window was restored at a cost of $8,400, raised largely in the United States by the American Friends of Dorchester Abbey Association.

Chamber Cites BBB Advice On Debt Consolidation Loans

The Chamber of Commerce today cited a warning from the National Better Business Bureau in cautioning East Liverpool householders to investigate thoroughly before negotiating a loan with any firm that offers "debt consolidation" funds to be repaid over a period of several years.

The Chamber, citing the BBB's warning, said the firms operate most frequently by taking a second mortgage on the borrower's home. Although the debtor's monthly payments are reduced, the total repaid frequently is close to twice the amount borrowed, including various charges and fees tacked on by the loan company, the Chamber said.

HERE ARE excerpts from the BBB's advice to consumers: "A clever scheme which offers home owners whose debts exceed their capacity to repay an opportunity to reduce the amount of their monthly payments is spreading like wildfire across the United States and Canada. As security, the over-indebted home owner is required to give a second mortgage on his dwelling. The terms sound attractive until he multiplies the amount of his monthly payment by the number of months he must pay over a period of three to five years. Then he discovers that he has obligated himself for a new debt up to twice as much or more than the debts he has 'consolidated'.

"There are substantial firms and individuals engaged in the business of making second mortgage loans and this warning is not intended as a criticism of their activities. Rather, it is intended to aid the public in obtaining necessary detailed information about all the obligations they assume in their transactions with money — finding intermediaries.

"The tactics employed by these firms are reminiscent of those used by 'debt-pooling' or 'debt adjustment' firms whose activities have now been outlawed by legislation in at least 16 states and placed under a degree of regulation by other states and communities.

"The firms claim that a home owner who owes $2,000 or more, for instance, can borrow the money from a second mortgage company and repay it for only $35 monthly, including interest.

"THE PRINCIPAL targets for the second mortgage brokers are property — owning people.

"THERE MAY also be an appraisal fee, an attorney's fee, fees for photographs, fees for 'searches,' preparation of instruments, recording, and so forth. Even if the loan itself is paid off in advance none of these charges are refunded or prorated. The net result is that a total loan which, in most cases reported to the BBB, is approximately twice the amount the borrower received to 'consolidate' his old debts.

"For example, a woman in Ohio who borrowed $3,000 found herself obliged to pay back a total of $5,850 in monthly installments of $97.50 over a five-year period.

"In most areas, the best protection to the home owner against questionable second mortgage brokers lies in the individual's willingness and determination to investigate thoroughly before he signs any contract. Money is generally available to over-indebted home owners through legitimate, reasonably priced channels.

"Above all, the home owner who is deeply in debt and desperately searching for a way out should never sign any blank papers. He should never sign any document until he has read it carefully and is sure that he fully understands its meaning and implications. He should be sure that all fees and charges are listed and understood by him. If he is in any doubt, he should consult an attorney of his own choosing."

Although the Bahamas of the West Indies comprise about 700 islands and 2,000 keys and reefs of rock and coral sand, only 20 of these islands are inhabited.

Hazards Are Lurking Constantly

You're Not Always Safe At Home

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. — There are so many hazards in the average home that it's a wonder we are all not maimed or injured.

As it is, an alarming number of accidents occur in the home.

The causes are generally little things and most accidents could be avoided with advance checking and continued rechecking.

Falling is the most common way to get injured at home. Falls and painful bumps can be eliminated by keeping paths clear. Safety as well as esthetics must be considered when arranging furniture.

DO NOT place furniture where people normally enter or leave a room. In bedrooms, where a collision in the dark is always a possibility, there should be an unobstructed path from the bed to the door.

Throw - rugs on a slippery floor can throw you right into the hospital. Small rugs should be placed on non - skid pads or have backs treated to prevent slipping. Larger rugs should be fastened down.

Do not count on the rubber backing that was on the rugs when you bought them. This wears off in time. Tack down curling edges of rugs and repair holes immediately.

Falls can be avoided in the bathroom by using a rubber mat in the tub and by placing hand rails so that they can be grasped when climbing in or out of the tub.

If you have children in the house you have a house with toys and everyone of them is a potential hazard.

Naturally you should train your children to pick up their toys. A little help in this direction would be a toy chest that you could probably put together yourself in your workshop.

ELECTRICITY frightens people enough that they wouldn't think of touching a bare wire. But aside from this obvious danger, they proceed to take chances through carelessness, inviting trouble that could be just as fatal.

Be careful what you do with electric cords. Do not run them under rugs. Walking back and forth over them will wear out the insulation and create a fire hazard.

Running a cord where a door closes against it is not safe. Even if the insulation doesn't break on the outside, it might break inside, leading to a short circuit.

Disconnect a cord by pulling the plug, not the wire. Do not overload lightweight extensions. Do not put double and triple plugs in a single wall outlet. Do not leave a cord where someone might trip over it. Inspect cords regularly for frayed spots, breaks. Do not leave heating appliances connected when not in use. Use heavy duty cords and heavy duty extensions on large appliances.

No house has enough storage space and cluttering soon occurs if precautions are not taken. Piles of papers are a fire hazard. Old rags should not be kept in the house and if they must be stored they should be kept in a closed metal container.

Do not store paint solvents, oil paints, cleaning solutions and other flammable material in confined areas.

It is best if you can store them away from the house. In any case, keep them in a well-ventilated area to avoid spontaneous combustion.

Old Floors That Squeak Are Not Hard To Repair

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. — Floors that squeak are a common nuisance, but are more bother than trouble and not too difficult to repair.

It is typical of older homes because it is a condition brought on with usage. In newer homes it can be caused by shrinkage of floor boards, warping or poor workmanship.

Most floors consist of two layers — a rough subfloor of wide boards and on top of this the finished floor made of strips of hardwood, generally oak.

FLOOR BOARDS fit together with tongue and groove joints and are held down to the subfloor by nailing. The subfloor is nailed to the joists, the beams that support the floor.

Understanding how the floor is constructed will help in making repairs. Insufficient nailing will cause flooring to move and squeak. Loose nails will have the same effect. You can't see them because nails and boards will move together.

If you can see the floor from below — as you can under the first floor over an unfinished basement where the joists are exposed — repairs are simple.

Have someone walk on the floor overhead while you watch from below. This should be done several times, making certain that every board is stepped on.

Mark those that squeak when stepped on. Your marks will be on the underside of the floor, the basement ceiling. Insert wedges between the floor and the joists wherever squeaking occurs. Drive them into place with a hammer.

Kn most cases wedging will end the problem. If it doesn't then more secure bracing is called for. Cut lengths of 2x4 so that they fit snugly between the joists under the offending boards. Secure them by driving nails through the joists and into the braces.

Another method of bracing consists of placing a piece of 2x4 or 2x6 against the floor, pushing up tightly and then nailing it to the joists.

WHEN THESE methods do not work, attack the problem from above. Work from above, also, when you cannot get at the floor from the underside.

The floor boards will have to be renailed to the joists by tapping on the floor boards with a rubber mallet or a block of wood.

Empty space directly below will result in a hollow sound. A solid sound will result if the joist is below. Drive a three-

Steel Has Eye On Auto Sales

CLEVELAND (AP) — Auto sales are today's main indicator of prospects for steel demand, Steel Magazine said today.

Car sales are important because the industry is the biggest user of steel, and its consumption is heavily concentrated in hot and cold rolled sheets, the steel industry's two top tonnage products, Steel said.

Any reduction in steel buying for automobiles would be felt keenly because it would coincide with the seasonal decline in buying by the second largest steel user, the construction industry, the metalworking weekly said.

The magazine reported steel producers are saying tight money and high interest rates are hurting sales. "Consumers are able to delay purchases by living off their inventories," Steel said.

Steel noted a bulge in military orders, particularly for billets and bars for munitions. Bars in the larger sizes are sold out for the rest of the year. Pipe is going for bomb casings and barbed wire sales remain strong, the magazine said.

The percentage of imported pig iron which comes from Iron Curtain countries has increased from a "trickle" last year to 40 per cent during the first eight months of this year, Steel said.

Total imports for the period totaled 700,404 net tons, with 282,020 tons coming from iron curtain countries, the magazine said, with Russia sending in 163,032 tons, Czechoslovakia 61,355, East Germany 47,280 and Rumania 10,353.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
A Bid For Healthy Weight

A young mother who had despaired of losing her burden of fat has been inspired to try again. The triumphant letter from a former size 24½ has given her new hope and fresh courage. She writes:

"I have just finished reading for the second time your story about Ida Jean Kain, the 24-year-old woman who reduced from 223 pounds to 124 pounds.

"I didn't realize there were other people like me. I am 23 years old and I weigh 200 pounds, even though I am only 5'1" tall. I have three beautiful children, the oldest is 3½. I realize this fat is unhealthy and it scares me to think I might not be around to see my family grow up. I have a wonderful husband who loves me regardless of what I look like. But I know for my own health and well-being I should lose some of this bulk.

"I HAVE tried dieting before, but after a short time I slide back into the same rut. I have every reason to reduce, but I have no will power and even less self-control. I want so much to lose this poundage and it has helped me a lot to know that it is not impossible. Thank you for letting me cry on your shoulder. I need moral support."

You have new hope. Now why not make this a new beginning, not just another try at dieting. A change in your routine can buoy up your spirits and keep you from slipping back into a rut.

You need the stimulation of being with others who are working toward the same goal. In your city there are reducing groups who are eager to help you. Arrange to get a baby-sitter for a few hours one day a week. If there is no other way, take turns with other reducers.

Why take the defeatist attitude that you lack self-control? Mark this well, you will never get more willpower by telling yourself that you haven't any! Turn your mind and your energies toward what you want.

When you are excited about what you can do for yourself, and whip into action, suddenly your life takes on sparkle. Gone is the lethargy and the feeling of hopelessness. Enthusiasm will lend wings to your project.

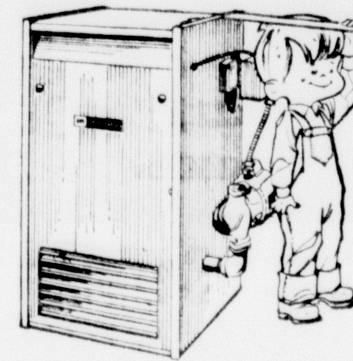

WITH NEW hope your attitude will change. When you feel disgruntled at cutting down on favorite foods, that attitude sends you back to overeating. When you view a new pattern of eating and exercise as the greatest favor you can do yourself, you experience a resurgence of energy. You will not feel deprived. On the exercise score, just fifteen minutes a day of shape-ups can help you to feel more alive.

You're young! Take charge of your life! Get an exultant feeling within yourself that this is the way to achieve your heart's desire.

search for the Cincinnati stranger.

A brown-and-cream Chevrolet was seen following the car of Mrs. Alice Hochhauser, 51, late on Oct. 11 shortly before she was raped and strangled in the back yard of her home in the Clifton section.

She was the fourth victim since Dec. 2, 1965, and the series of murders has cast fear over the greater Cincinnati area. All the women were in their 50s.

Meanwhile, police launched a search for a Negro who tried to rape a Negro woman in the near downtown area Sunday night. The man fled when a passing car stopped and its two occupants came to investigate the struggle between the man and the woman, described as in her 50s.

Councilman Carl Rich said he would propose an ordinance providing up to $10,000 compensation for citizens who suffer injury while trying to prevent a crime. Law enforcement officers would not be eligible for compensation under the ordinance.

Sgt. Edward Dieckman, in charge of the car search, said 382 of an estimated 9,000 cars have been checked out, and machinery for a faster search has now been set up.

At the same time Lt. Joseph Crawford returned Sunday from the Lima State Hospital where he spent several days checking records of inmates released before Oct. 12, 1965.

That was the date of the first attempted rape and strangulation. The victim, a 65-year-old Walnut Hills area woman, survived the attack.

Police said she described her attacker as a Negro. Hair found on the scene of one of the later attacks was determined to have come from a Negro and the driver of the brown-and-cream car also was described as a Negro.

Smuggling Suspect Caught In Sea Chase

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Karachi police and customs officials caught their man in a high-speed chase Sunday on the Arabian Sea after he fled aboard his yacht.

Kassim Bhatti, 50, suspected of international gold smuggling, was overtaken 40 miles off Karachi by a police boat and arrested. He was reported heading for the Dubai sheikhdom in the Persian Gulf.

The hunt for Bhatti started after customs police discovered $500,000 worth of gold in his mansion on an island five miles out from Karachi.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You do a lot of good. Will you do something for the thousands of "Other Women" in the country? They deserve to know the truth. Please let me be Ann Landers today. I want to say something to every single female who is involved with a married man. Here's my letter:

Dear Other Woman: My husband hasn't asked me for a divorce because he's afraid I might give him one. Then he'd be in an impossible position because he wouldn't have any excuses for not marrying you.

I must admit that my husband is telling you the truth about one thing: I'm not as attractive as I once was. It's hard to keep your looks up when you don't have money for clothes and the beauty shop. After all, entertaining a woman as elegant as you can make a serious dent in a working man's salary.

But please don't feel sorry for me. I do have a few new dresses — well nearly new. My sister cleaned out her closet six months ago, and she is almost my size.

And now for the important part of my letter. I hope my husband has been honest with you about his past. He had three

Sincerely yours,
THE WIFE.

Dear Wife: Here's your letter and a superb one it is. And now may I add a word?

Dear Girls: If the shoe fits, put it on and kick the bum out of your life.

Faith Shattered

Dear Ann: My faith in you has been shattered. I thought you had a knack for spotting the phony letters and I enjoyed it so much when you printed a made-up letter and then let the writer know he hadn't fooled you.

So how come you fell for that crazy letter from the woman who said she loved her husband but she had to divorce him on doctor's orders because he gave her asthma and hives?

Any idiot knows that it is not possible to catch asthma or hives. These illnesses are not contagious. Now if she got the measles or the flu from her husband, that would be another matter. I hope you will correct yourself in the paper because a lot of people accept your word as law and you owe it to the public to give sensible answers. — DISILLUSIONED.

Dear Dis: A person does not catch asthma or hives from another person in the same way that he might catch the mumps, but any physician will tell you that hives and asthma can be psychogenerated — which in plain English means "caused by an emotional problem."

Fear, resentment, conflict and guilt can make a person so ill he is unable to get out of bed in the morning. Ulcers, headaches and backaches are only a few of the ailments that are often traced to an emotional problem.

No one would be so foolish as to say an ulcer is contagious, but almost everybody who has an ulcer got it from somebody — usually a relative or a business associate.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mahoning Action May Hit Work On River-Lake Road

A Youngstown district woman has filed a civil action in Mahoning County Court seeking to restrain a Niles contractor from encroaching on her property for construction of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway.

Mrs. Mabel R. Thomas of the Boardman - Canfield Rd. filed the action, contending that her property never has been appropriated legally for the right-of-way for the four-lane highway that will link East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

Mrs. Thomas seeks to restrain further work by the Soda & Luscher Construction Co. of Niles, which holds a State Highway Department contract for the segment of the highway. She asks $1,000 for damage allegedly already done and $100,000 in punitive damages.

The petition declares that the Highway Department filed an appropriation action on the ground months ago, but the suit later was thrown out of court on a technicality. The state has not taken further action to acquire the ground, the petition says.

The Youngstown area section is one of several segments on which construction is under way. Current construction also includes a segment in the East Liverpool area.

Trial Opened Without Jury

LISBON — Frank William Quinlan, 33, Pittsburgh, waived a jury trial this morning in Common Pleas Court and asked for trial by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. A verdict is expected today.

Indicted by the September Grand Jury, Quinlan is charged with passing a bogus $214.37 check last March 7 at the Thorfare Super Market in East Liverpool.

Frank Arcuri, Thorfare manager, pointed to Quinlan this morning as the man who presented him the check made out to, and endorsed by, William R. Keeler, and presented as identification a driver's license issued to a William R. Keeler.

Arcuri said he was satisfied the signatures were the same so he gave the man $214.37.

The check was on the account of C. C. Home Improvement Co. at the First National Bank in Cadiz. When the check came back marked "insufficient funds," Arcuri gave police information on the check and did some investigating himself. He said he found the address on the driver's license was fictitious and that the account at the Cadiz bank had been closed out previously.

Capt. Robert Pyle of the East Liverpool police department testified he checked out information on the driver's license, which Arcuri had noted on the check, and found out the license # was one of several blanks stolen from Youngstown.

Quinlan was arrested the latter part of March in Washington, Pa., and Capt. Pyle took Arcuri to Washington County jail to identify him as "Keeler."

Wow! Potters Score With Second Left To Nip Beaver Falls

Diddle-To-McVay Pass Nets 14-7 Win For 4th Straight

One That Counted...

Mike McVay, With Hands Outstretched, Awaits Ball For Winning Touchdown, Which Was Scored With One Second Left In The Game.

Diddle Set...

Earl Diddle With Smith Blocking Gets Set To Throw 50-Yard Pass To Carter.

This Stopped The Clock

Denny Smith Had The Ball On His Fingertips But Dropped The Pass To Stop The Clock.

Carter's Catch Of 50-Yd. Pass Sets Up TD

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

There has never been a finish quite like it, at least at Patterson Field.

In an almost unbelievable ending, a courageous East Liverpool team that didn't know how to quit scored a heart-throbbing 14-7 come-from-behind victory over WPIAL powerhouse Beaver Falls Saturday night, the winning touchdown coming with only one second left in the game.

A rain-soaked crowd of 3,314 braved intermittent showers to see the Potters record one of their most exciting victories in many seasons on the West End gridiron.

The superlatives could flow in many directions for Potter heroes of Saturday's thriller, but it was only fitting that quarterback, fullback, linebacker, punter and kickoff man Mike McVay should score the winning touchdown.

McVay, who does a little of everything, made a great catch about one foot inside the end zone of a pass thrown by another Potter hero, Earl Diddle, for the clincher. The touchdown was made with only one tick left on the clock from a play that started on the Beaver Falls nine-yard line with five seconds to play.

However, the touchdown was almost anticlimactic in view of play which led to the winning score.

With 37 seconds remaining and the Potters on their own 41, Diddle uncorked a long, high pass down the west sidelines and Bill Carter, with three Beaver Falls defenders in front of him, leaped up to take the ball, which was right on target, then struggled to the nine-yard line.

A DIDDLE-to-Denny Smith pass towards the sideline fell incomplete, stopping the clock. With only one chance left, Diddle hit McVay and then for an encore the two juniors combined for the two-point conversion on another pass.

It was a great second half for Diddle, who threw two clutch passes under extreme pressure. He hadn't played much since he started at Midland three games back.

McVay turned in the finest all-around performances seen at Patterson Field since the days of Ed Oliver, another "Mr. Everything" who played in the early 50's.

McVay's punts kept Beaver Falls backed up in its own territory most of the evening. He was a tiger from his linebacker position and made a key interception which led to the Potters' first touchdown. Also, after running the team from quarterback in the first half he was shifted to fullback, leading several Potter drives in the second half.

A job selling tickets and leading the band might be what McVay needed to occupy any other spare time he had on the gridiron Saturday night.

Potter Coach Bob McNea, excited over the victory, said, "I have never been involved in a game so close, scoring the winning touchdown with only one second to go."

The Review Sports

MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1966 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 19

"I felt our defense played exceptionally well and the team as a whole rose to the occasion. Our offensive line did a good job of blocking."

McNea couldn't say enough for the fine work of McVay. "He played quarterback, fullback and was making tackles all over the field." The Potter coach also pointed out the blocking of Darryl Herring from his fullback spot, especially on the touchdown run of 13 yards by Denny Smith.

FOR BEAVER FALLS coach Larry Bruno it was a sad homecoming. The former East Liverpool and Geneva College grid star made his first appearance in his home town as a head coach.

Losing in the last seconds is a heart-breaking experience and it was for Bruno, who was quite dejected following the game.

"It was the worst game we played all season, we weren't hitting and I didn't feel we played good defense," Bruno said. "We rely on our passing, but I felt it was too wet to throw tonight. I thought Rich Caputo did a very good job on the off tackle play," he added.

BOTH TEAMS went into the game with 4-1 records and three-game winning streaks. For East Liverpool, winner of four straight Class AA games and the score with Pennsylvania opponents, the only blemish on the Potters record being a loss to Midland in the second game.

Beaver Falls had won three straight Class AA games and was sky high a week ago in upsetting Butler.

The first quarter Saturday night turned into a punting game, with neither team getting anywhere.

THE WET field helped Beaver Falls to its first touchdown. The Tigers received a break when McVay, back to punt from the Beaver Falls 38, dropped the wet ball and end Charles Huntington recovered at midfield.

It took the Tigers only eight plays to move for a touchdown, with Caputo tearing off two good gains, while fullback Herb Braxton went 11 yards on one carry.

CAPUTO scored the only touchdown for Beaver Falls on his favorite off-tackle play from 13 yards out. Bob Bentley boot-ed the extra point for a 7-0 lead. Bruno played conservative after the touchdown and the Tigers threw only two passes after scoring, with one of those intercepted.

Trailing 7-0, the Potters fought back the first time they received the ball in the third period. With McNea shifting McVay to fullback and Diddle to quarterback, the Potters moved from their own 32 for two straight first downs.

McVay picked up 38 yards in three carries and Smith gave the Potters another first on the Tigers' 42. Diddle went two yards to the two, but a 15-yard holding penalty called on Carter put the ball back on the Potter 43. Two more running plays netted only five yards and the Potters were forced to punt.

After a scoreless third quarter, McVay gave the Blue and White a break by intercepting a Bill Ross pass on the Beaver Falls 39, where he was dropped immediately.

Herring carried four out of five times for 17 yards and Diddle gained a yard to the 13.

THE POTTERS called on Smith, who, behind some good blocking, raced around the right side for the touchdown with 8:11 remaining in the game.

The Potters went for the two-point conversion, but a pass by Diddle was thrown short with two Potter receivers open in the end zone.

Although scoring, East Liverpool was still a long way from victory. The defensive forces, a tenacious group all evening, dug in even deeper and forced Beaver Falls to punt.

Mike Smith got off a poor kick for the Potters from the Beaver 43 and the Potters took over on their own 46.

EAST Liverpool was stopped and with about 3:30 left punted from the Beaver 47 on a fourth and two situation.

On the punt, Frank Gray signaled for a fair catch, but Emanuel Volino bumped him, costing the Potters 15 yards and moving the ball to the Beaver Falls 35.

The Tigers took over with 3:24 to go and moved to a first down to their own 46.

Caputo went for 12 yards on a third and six call, moving to the Potters 38. Three plays netted only six yards, but ran the clock down to less than one minute.

With fourth and four on the East Liverpool 32, Beaver Falls chose to punt, with Smith's kick going into the end zone.

ONLY 46 seconds remained when the Potters took over on their own 20. East Liverpool received a break when holding was called and 15 yards were marked off against Beaver Falls.

The penalty was from the point of infraction and moved the ball to the East Liverpool 39. After McVay picked up two yards to the 41, Diddle let go with the 50-yard bomb to Carter, setting up the winning TD.

THE POTTERS' rugged defense held 195-pound fullback Herb Braxton to only 32 yards in 13 carries. He had been averaging more than 110 yards per game.

While Braxton was held in check, Caputo wasn't, as he sliced off tackle for 85 yards in 12 carries.

Beaver Falls' defensive brigade led by linebacker Ken Shumaker and end Chuck Huntington held the Potters to 52 yards and one first down the first half. East Liverpool moved for 85 yards and five first downs in the second.

The Tigers accounted for a net of 172 yards rushing and eight first downs.

Several Potters Tie For Top Performances

The East Liverpool Potter coaching staff found itself in a dilemma in choosing the outstanding players from Saturday night's exciting victory. After viewing the game movies the staff judged several ties for the leading offensive and defensive performances.

A three way tie for offensive and halfback, Darryl Herring for his running and blocking and Earl Diddle for his direction of the team in the second half.

A tie for offensive lineman was between end Bill (Pete) Carter and tackle Emmanuel Volino.

Three were deadlocked for defensive back including Herr-

Midland Romps 32-6 Over South Side For 6th Straight

By JOHN MUELLER
The Midland Leopards rolled to their sixth straight win, 32-6, over South Side at the Midland stadium Saturday night.

A small crowd of less than 1,000 watched the Leopards score early and often on a muddy, rain-soaked field.

South Side's single-wing attack was stymied effectively by the Leopards' defense and the visitors never offered a serious threat until they recovered a Leopard fumble on the Midland 18-yard line in the waning moments of the game.

Tom Doak, South Side quarterback, missed on his first three pass attempts following the recovery, but found full-back Ron Peden in the end zone for their lone score.

THE LEOPARD defense was so effective the visitors managed just one first down in each half. A Doak aerial to Ron Allison covering 16 yards late in the first quarter put the ball on their own 43-yard line, their farthest advance in the first half.

Ken Dunlevy intercepted a Walt Marciniak pass on the Midland 47 and returned it to the 43, but the threat died on the Midland 47 after three tries in the first period.

Midland gave South Side another opportunity in the early going of the final period, but a penalty stopped the threat. The Leopards, meanwhile, went to work early to build their victory edge and then coach Joe Hamilton turned the chores over to the reserves. The final two periods found the Leopard lineup studded with sophomores.

Leopards Score 5TD's In First Half

MIDLAND scored the first off and running with 9:15 remaining in the quarter. Leopards kicked off to South Side and the visitors were forced to punt as they ended up with a minus four yards in the first series of plays.

Peden's punt was partially blocked by Aaron Golding and Midland had the ball on the South Side 34-yard line. The Leopards needed just three plays to chalk up their first score. Jim Smith barreled over the right tackle for 22 yards and Dave Vanlier went over the same spot for 10 yards before Smith went off right guard for the score. John Granito's kick was good and the Leopards were attempt for the placement was fumbled and Midland led 13-0 with 2:14 to play.

The third Leopard score of the period followed an interception. Larry Bradley picked off a Doak aerial on the Midland 44 and returned it to the South Side 18. Three plays were all the Leopards needed to score. Samuels tried a first down pass that fell incomplete. Vanlier circled left end for the score. Again the snap back for the conversion was fumbled and Midland was content with a 19-0 lead with 15 seconds on the clock.

MIDLAND'S next score came like a bolt of lightning. South Side took the kickoff to end the first period. Doak's pass on the very first play of the second period was intercepted by Vanlier in the flat on the South Side 39 and he went all the way for a TD.

Midland's final tally came before the visitors could recover completely from the shock. South Side took the kickoff and on the third play Doak fumbled and a host of Midland players swarmed on the ball at the South Side 30.

Midland, content with the lead, operated with a reserve-studded lineup for its final TD. Marciniak scored on a keeper

Beaver Local Trips Palestine, 19-6, At Homecoming

Jeff Hall Scores Two For Beavers

Jeff Hall, shifted to quarterback at the last minute when Dennis Klembara was sidelined with an injury, scored two touchdowns in leading Beaver Local in a 19-6 victory over East Palestine.

The victory made the Beaver Local homecoming complete Saturday night as a rainsoaked crowd of some 1,000 looked on.

The Beavers in bringing their record to 3-3 defeated an East Palestine squad which had brought a 4-1 record into the game.

Following the contest Coach Don Ross said "I felt the team was up for East Palestine and was satisfied with our performance."

BEAVER Local scored in the first period after recovering a blocked punt on the East Palestine 30. Beaver drove to the one where Hall on a quarterback sneak went over and Don Sowards booted the conversion for a 7-0 lead.

East Palestine bounced back to score early in the second period. The Bulldogs recovered a fumble on the Beaver 48 and drove to the one where their leading scorer Jim Parker plunged over for the TD. The conversion which would have put East Palestine in front failed when a pass was incomplete.

LATER in the second period, defensive back Bill Cole intercepted a pass thrown by Parker at the Beaver 45 and raced 55 yards for a touchdown that moved the Beavers in front 13-6 at halftime.

Beaver added an insurance touchdown in the fourth period when Jeff Hall rolled out for 25 yards and his second tally of the night.

IN THE fourth quarter, Beaver Local managed to control the ball for almost all eight minutes of the period.

Beaver Local's ground attack netted 232 yards and nine first downs while East Palestine picked up 138 yards on the ground, 56 passing good for nine first downs.

Wins Everything But Score

Kent's Latest Defeat Is Most Frustrating

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not on the curriculum but Kent State should have no trouble giving a course in futility.

Coach Leo Strang's football team will do the tutoring.

Kent's grid fortunes reached a new low last Saturday after University at Athens Saturday in a game that could determine the Mid-American Conference championship, won its 11th straight, the nation's longest winning streak, with a 12-0 decision over Marshall. Bruce Matte scored both TDs before retiring to the sidelines with an injured forearm. He will be ready for the Bobcats.

Bowling Green copped its first Mid-Am triumph by nipping Toledo 14-13. The Rockets tried a field goal with eight seconds left but Charles Burley partially blocked the boot for the Falcons.

Toledo's John Schneider connected on 20 of 32 passes for 237 yards tying the league's completion record set by Dan Smerell of Toledo against Miami in 1964.

Resurgent Ohio University and Dayton both registered victories. Reserve quarterback Bob Brown delivered a fourth quarter touchdown pass and scored another minutes later in a 24-10 verdict over Xavier. The Bobcats, after a season-opening setback to Purdue, have won four straight.

Dayton, boosting its record to 4-1, turned back Buffalo, 13-3, behind the running of Mel Taylor and the passing of Jerry Biebuyck.

In the Ohio Conference, Barry Aronson fired four touchdown passes and Barry Furst caught four as Ohio Wesleyan thrashed Otterbein 55-0. Wittenberg checked Baldwin-Wallace's high-octane offense with a 10-3 decision; Muskingum, the OC champion, won its 16th straight in the loop by beating Heidelberg 19-0 as Vern Albery kicked two field goals; Denison stayed in contention by rallying for a 14-10 triumph over Mount Union; Capital blanked Marietta 15-0 and Hiram whitewashed Kenyon 18-0.

In others, Cincinnati put up a game effort but bowed to Tulane 28-21; Akron disposed of Wooster 26-0; Joe Petty's 25-yard field goal with 13 seconds to go gave Ohio Northern a 6-3 upset over Findlay; St. Joseph's, Ind., handed Ashland its first defeat, 13-6; Allegheny stopped Oberlin 12-0; Bluffton 6-6 standoff; Western Reserve shaded Washington & Jefferson Homecoming Day.

West Virginia Lead Boosted By St. Albans

St. Albans has strengthened its grip on the big schools lead in West Virginia high school football ratings, with Ripley holding a shaky edge in Class AA ranks and Crum still solid in Class A.

St. Albans' 22-14 victory over Belle DuPont plunged the DuPonters from fifth to ninth in the ratings and stretched St. Albans' lead over second-rated Buckhannon-Upshur from 0.2 to 0.9.

Ratings released by the Secondary Activities Commission also showed Huntington third among the big school contenders, with Big Creek of War fourth and Clarksburg Victory fifth.

Ripley jumped into first place from second after trouncing St. Marys 43-7 and sailed St. Marys from last week's fifth - rated to non-rated. Last week's Class A leader Gary was pushed down to second place even after its 44-12 victory over Pineville.

Other Class AA leaders are Ceredo-Kenova, tied with Gary at 10.7, and Berkeley Springs behind them with a 9.2 rating.

The Class A division changed little this week. Still running 1-2 are Crum with 10.5 and Wirt County of Elizabeth at 9.7. Next in line are Lewisburg with 9.4 and Fairview with 8.7.

Booted out of the ratings were Class AAA Mount Hope, rated sixth last week, after a 33-0 loss to Charleston; Class AA Fayetteville, rated fourth last week but defeated by un-ranked Gauley Bridge, 13-6; and Class A Ansted, third last week but loser to Lookout Nuttall, 12-7.

Wellsville, East End Win 3rd Straight

Three shutouts were recorded in the Little Football League action Sunday.

Wellsville and East End continued to roll along as the only undefeated teams recording their third straight victories.

Wellsville blanked Calcutta, 44-0 while East End shut out Dixonville, 28-0.

Glenmoor jumped back on the win track with a 40-0 rout of North Side while St. Aloysius handed Newell - Waterford Park its first defeat, 8-6.

In the Pee-Wee League, Wellsville defeated Calcutta 12-6 while Dixonville edged East End, 6-0. Newell and St. Aloysius played to a 0-0 tie.

Wednesday's game shows Glenmoor meeting Chester at Chester. The Pee Wee game will start at 6:30 with the Little League game at 7:30.

Packers' Defense Halts Sayers; Dallas, Cards In Tie

Green Bay Takes Western Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vince Lombardi couldn't keep Chicago's Gale Sayers on the sidelines, so Lombardi's Green Bay Packers did the next best thing.

They kept Sayers in the middle of the field, stymied the Bears' flash and rolled to a 17-0 victory Sunday for sole possession of first place in the National Football League's Western Division.

Green Bay's bruising defense, led by veteran Willie Davis, held Sayers, the NFL's scoring champion and rookie of the year last season, to 29 rushing yards while handing the Bears their first shutout loss in 27 games.

"Every time he makes a move, I lose a year of my life," Lombardi said after the Packers' defensive charge had contained Sayers. "Would I rather have him run inside or outside? I'd rather have him sit on the bench."

Sayers, hounded by Davis and his defensive cohorts, could not break away in 15 carries — his biggest pick-up was nine yards. The Packers, meanwhile, scored on a 1-yard run by Paul Hornung, a 30-yard field goal by Don Chandler and a 20-yard interception return by Willie Wood.

Green Bay's fifth victory in six starts, coupled with Los Angeles' 35-7 loss to previously winless Minnesota, dropped the Rams, 4-2, one game behind the Packers in the Western race.

St. Louis and Dallas, both unbeaten and 1-2 in the East, struggled to a 10-10 tie while Baltimore walloped Detroit 45-14. San Francisco drubbed Atlanta 44-7. Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh 31-14 and New York upended Washington 12-10.

The Packers drove 66 yards early in the third quarter and broke a scoreless deadlock on Hornung's TD plunge. Ray Nitschke picked off a Rudy Bukich pass and rambled 23 yards, setting up the field goal, and Wood wrapped it up with his scoring jaunt.

Fran Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns and scored another, leading Minnesota to its first victory in five games, while the Vikings smothered Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel repeatedly and intercepted him three times. Tarkenton completed 20 of 30 passes for 327 yards.

St. Louis, trailing 10-7 late in the fourth quarter, got a break when Bob Hayes fumbled a punt and Dave O'Brien recovered for the Cardinals. Jim Bakken then kicked the tying field goal with 3:56 to play.

Dan Reeves' three-yard TD run had sent the Cowboys ahead 3½ minutes earlier before a crowd of 50,673 — largest ever to see a sporting event in St. Louis. The tie left the Cardinals, 5-0-1, one-half game in front of Dallas, 4-0-1, in the Eastern Division.

Johnny Unitas fired four scoring passes and Gary Cuozzo, tossed another as the Colts bombed Detroit. Earl Sweetan, who relieved Milt Plum after the Lions' passer was sidelined with a knee injury, tied an NFL record with a 99-yard touchdown strike to Pat Studstill.

San Francisco extended the fledgling Falcons' losing string to six games as John Brodie whipped three touchdown passes, the longest a 63-yard bomb to Jim Jackson. George Mira also threw a TD pass for the 49ers, who upset the Packers last week.

Norm Snead tossed two fourth-quarter scoring passes and Sam Baker added a field goal, lifting the Eagles past Pittsburgh. Rookie Willie Asbury scored both Steeler touchdowns, one on a 37-yard pass from George Izo.

Earl Morrall and Aaron Thomas clicked on a 29-yard pass play for New York's winning touchdown with less than five minutes remaining after Pete Gogolak's second field goal shot the Giants within range earlier in the last quarter.

GREEN BAY PACKERS Paul Hornung is helped to his feet by Packer trainers after he suffered an injury in scoring a touchdown in the third quarter of Sunday's game with the Bears at Chicago. Hornung spent the rest of the game on the sidelines. (UPI Telephoto)

Russell, Celtics Off And Running

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell is batting 1,000 in his new role as player-coach and the Boston Celtics are off to a winning start in a bid for a ninth straight National Basketball Association championship.

Russell, whose arrival from the University of San Francisco and the U.S. Olympic team a decade ago built Boston into a dynasty, led the Celtics to a 121-113 victory over the San Francisco Warriors in his coaching debut Saturday night at the Garden.

Russell, one of basketball's all-time great defensive players, had little to say about his own performance on the court. However, he obviously was pleased as he checked the figures which showed him with eight points, 11 assists and 24 rebounds.

The 6-foot-10 veteran played 43 minutes, taking only a five-minute rest in the second period. He was spectacular in the closing minutes, blocking four shots as the Celtics pulled away from a 109-109 tie.

As a coach, Russell also came through with the right move.

With the score deadlocked 107-107, he called Larry Siegfried off the bench and the former Ohio Star clicked for all of Boston's last 14 points.

In other NBA openers Saturday night, Los Angeles, minus the injured Jerry West, defeated Baltimore New York 128-112. Cincinnati downed Detroit 103-99, and the Chicago Bulls, making their league debut, upset the Hawks in St. Louis 104-97.

No games were played Sunday.

Killed By Bull

LISBON (AP) — Joaquin Jose Correia, one of Portugal's youngest bullfighting horsemen, was killed in the bull ring Sunday on his 21st birthday. Correia fell under his horse and was gored by a charging bull.

Snead Takes State's 'Open' For 11th Time

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. — It was 30 years ago last Saturday that Sam Snead won his first of many tournaments, surprising a few old-timers, by claiming the West Virginia Open title.

Now, surprising no one, he's still winning that title.

Snead, turning in his poorest round of the 54-hole tournament Sunday with a two-under-par 68, claimed the title and its $500 purse for the 11th time.

No one came competitively close to the ageless White Sulphur Springs pro as he turned in a 67-44-68-199 on the South Hills Golf Course.

The best contender was Tom Cassidy of Marietta, Ohio, 10 strokes away at 209.

Chilled by icicle winds, only one golfer besides Snead turned in a sub-par 70 round Sunday — Don Spears of Akron, Ohio, with a 67 for the best round of the day. His tournament total was 217, to win $112.50.

Last Undefeated Team Falls

Vet Blanda Leads Oilers To 24-0 Romp Over Jets

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Blanda happened to the previously undefeated New York Jets, but look what happened to the hopeful Kansas City Chiefs — Hewitt Dixon.

Blanda threw two touchdown passes and kicked a field goal Sunday as Houston coasted to a 24-0 victory over New York, the last undefeated team in the American Football League. The loss prevented the Jets from taking a commanding 2½-game lead in the Eastern Division.

Then there were the Chiefs, who had thoughts of beating Oakland and grabbing sole possession of first place in the Western Division. But they ran into Dixon — or to be more exact, Dixon ran through them — and wound up on the wrong end of a 34-13 score.

The previously unheralded Dixon scored three touchdowns in the Raiders' 28-point second quarter, combining with Tom Flores on pass plays of 76 and 10 yards and sweeping one yard for the third score.

Switched from tight end to fullback after the Raiders acquired him from Denver for linebacker Arch Matsos last January, the 25-year-old Dixon had seen little action in Oakland's first five games.

"I made up my mind earlier in the week," Coach John Rauch said, "to give Dixon considerable offensive work. Then before the game he came up to me and told me he had had four good games in this ball park — he owned the place — so I knew I was right in deciding to use him."

Dixon, a 1962 graduate of Florida A&M who now lives in Alachua, Fla., dramatically reassured that ownership.

With 6:03 remaining in the first half and Oakland leading by only 7-6, Dixon stormed past blitzing linebacker Bobby Bell, snared the pass from Flores and raced the rest of the 76 yards for a touchdown.

In other games, Buffalo tied San Diego 17-17 and Miami won its first game by downing Denver 24-7.

The Raiders' victory dropped the Chiefs one-half game behind San Diego in the West while Houston's victory cut New York's lead in the east to 1½ games.

The Oilers' performance was far different from the one they put on in New York four weeks before when they lost 52-13.

Blanda kicked an eight-yard field goal, then hit Sid Blanks with a 2-yard touchdown pass and Charley Hennigan with a four-yard scoring toss. The Oilers intercepted four Joe Namath passes.

San Diego grabbed a 17-3 half-time lead over Buffalo, but Dallas' 62.9 mph; Dean Chenoweth, 145 cu. in., 63.4

netted with a three-yard touch-down pass in the third quarter

Creek, 48 cu. in., 50.9 mph.

Ohio Boaters Win

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Ohioans won five events in dominating the annual Charleston Regatta for hydroplanes Sunday. Mike Weiner of Cincinnati, 266 cubic inch class, 75.3 miles per hour; Dave Thomas, Dayton, 225 cubic inch, 78.8 mph; Jack Brown, Dayton, 150 cu. in., 62.9 mph; Dean Chenoweth, Xenia, 145 cu. in., 63.4

netted with a three-yard touch-down pass in the third quarter

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Ethnic Humor Hard To Come By

Danny Thomas is toying with the idea of basing a TV special on ethnic humor, a brand of comedy generally ignored on commercial television these days.

In fact, one of the reasons Danny is only toying with the idea himself is because of some fear and trepidation on the part of his writers, Garry Marshall and Jerry Belson.

"They came to me and said, 'Danny, you're the only one who can do it,' but then added they thought about 75 per cent of the audience would like it and 25 per cent would criticize me."

"I DON'T MIND those odds, because I never willfully have offended anybody. If I'm honest in my approach, I don't worry. Maybe the sponsors would. I don't know," says Danny.

The format of such a special as Danny sees it, would be a block party where neighbors of many faiths and racial extractions welcome each other into their respective homes. Guest stars like a Dean Martin, Lawrence Welk, Jack Benny and Bill Cosby are among examples Danny named to bring out his ethnic humor theme.

So, will he do it? That depends, according to Danny, on discussions he will have this month with his producers and writers. But if it's decided to do the show, the next problem is when.

DANNY'S first of three new specials for the current season, "Wonderful World of Burlesque, No. 3," already is taped for its Dec. 11 airing, and next month he leaves for Japan to tape the second one with Jonathan Winters and Jack Jones.

For the third special, producer Alan Handley wants Danny to do "Cyrano de Bergerac," but Danny thinks the play is too threadbare. Just because he doesn't need his nose built up for the part is not sufficient reason to revive it, in Danny's opinion.

On that basis Jimmy Durante has as big a claim as Thomas and, if my memory hasn't failed, Jimmy's done it on TV already.

WELL, WHAT if Danny wins out over "Cyrano" and gets NBC and the sponsors to okay an ethnic humor show? Now, says Danny, that will depend on another confab he hopes to have with Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra when he meets them Thursday at a big Sports Arena rally in Hollywood for Gov. Pat Brown.

"I've gotta be honest with you," says Danny. "If I can get Frank and Dean to come to Italy with me to do a show for the Boys Town of Italy, wow! I can't pass that up."

"I'd donate $25,000 of the proceeds to the Boys Town, and we'd call the TV show 'A Funny Thing Happened on the Appin Way.' Might even get it on the air before the Japan show, and, of course, that would be the three shows."

DANNY'S persuasive powers will be put to the test, despite Dean and Frank's Italian extraction and the imagery to be created with a background of Italian wails.

Dean has his own weekly show which already takes too much time from his golf game, and Frank is still a newlywed who might consider Danny's offer only if he finds he can buy Italy and the Boys Town and ship it to a Hollywood studio where Frank could just drop in after the whole thing is rehearsed and ready for him.

Anyway, one surely can see from talking with Danny how difficult it really is to get ethnic humor on a TV network, especially if, as Danny's writers maintain, he is the "only one who can do it."

ON HIS DEC. 11 special Danny will tell a Negro story in dialect and preface it with a brief explanation of what ethnic humor means to America and how he, Lebanese, enjoyed the richness of it during his boyhood days in Toledo, Ohio.

Meanwhile, it would appear those of us in the 75 per cent of the audience who enjoy ethnic humor will have to be happy

Read It In Paper, Gabe Paul Says Of Wynn Change

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians president and general manager Gabe Paul says he didn't know pitching coach Early Wynn had signed with the Minnesota Twins until he read it in the newspaper.

Wynn, who had been the Cleveland pitching mentor for three years, signed with Minnesota Saturday night.

Paul said he "knew the twins were interested in Early because they asked for permission to talk to him. We gave it, and we recommended him highly."

Gabe said Wynn had signed an employee's agreement for 1967 with the Indians, not as pitching coach but for employment "in some capacity."

"That doesn't mean he wasn't wanted as our pitching coach," Paul added. "It's just that Joe Adcock hasn't decided definitely who he wants."

Nicklaus Wins By 3

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is $20,000 richer as the winner of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament.

Blasting his way to a five-under-par 66 Saturday, Nicklaus won by three strokes with a 72-hole total of 282.

Arnold Palmer and Miller Barber tied for second place at 285, to take home $9,500 each.

Barber held the lead going into the final round Saturday and was even, with Nicklaus at the 12th hole. He fell back, however, after the 14th.

Junior Editors Quiz on OXEN

QUESTION: Why did the pioneers use oxen to pull their wagons instead of horses?

ANSWER: Men domesticated cattle thousands of years ago. The reason for this is clearly shown at the top of our picture. Cows give milk, and all types of cattle yield meat and leather. Oxen (you may have heard the phrase "As strong as an ox") provided power which enabled the early farmers to break the hard ground in order to plant crops. Cattle were brought to Plymouth Colony in 1624. Because of their great value to the pioneers, they were taken west in the covered wagon days. Our picture shows the use of oxen in hauling a heavy covered wagon over extremely rough terrain. Since oxen already did the hard jobs, most pioneers used them as they traveled west. But it is not true that horses were never used for this purpose; many pictures of the old west show them hitched to covered wagons. Horses also were ridden by the caravan leaders whose job it was to scout the trail and watch out for Indians. Such a mounted horseman appears in our picture. He is watching the wagon carefully as it bumps over the dangerous trail.

FOR YOU TO DO: Keep an eye open for pictures of covered wagons and see if oxen or horses are shown pulling them.

Jan Vincent of Fort Collins, Colo., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

mier Khrushchev told the 22nd 2 1/2 times more powerful than Soviet Communist Party Congress in Moscow the U.S.S.R. One year ago, Five U.S. Navy probably would complete its series of nuclear weapons tests with the detonation of a 50-megaton bomb. The device would be Communist North Viet Nam.

Today In History

In 1863, President Abraham Lincoln called for 300,000 volunteers to serve for three years in the Union Army.

In 1941, a government pledged to a strong Japanese foreign policy and headed by Lt. Gen. Hideki Tojo and Shigenori Togo took over in Tokyo.

Ten years ago, Yugoslavia objected to remarks by President Eisenhower that Soviet designs probably were not adequately appreciated or defended against by Yugoslavia.

Five years ago, Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the 22nd 2 1/2 times more powerful than Soviet Communist Party Congress in Moscow the U.S.S.R. One year ago, Five U.S. Navy probably would complete its series of nuclear weapons tests with the detonation of a 50-megaton bomb. The device would be Communist North Viet Nam.

On this date in 1849, the Polish composer, Frederic Chopin, died.
